Portacabin which provides food for homeless saved from closure

DRAMATIC RESCUE FOR VITAL SERVICE

A SERVICE which offers free food to needy and homeless people in Cannock has been saved from closure by a dramatic last-minute intervention.

The Portacabin, on the Beecroft Road car park in Cannock town centre, regularly serves 20-30 people in need four lunchtimes a week.

Rugeley Lions used to run the service but when they pulled out the cabin was set to close, meaning homeless people would have lost a vital means of regular food.

Pye Green Youth and Community Services, led by chairman David Spencer, and his dad Dennis, has stepped in to take over the venture despite it costing £3,500 a year to run. They now have plans to expand the Portacabin with a larger unit and could set up food and clothing banks on the site.

by TIM SPIERS

tim.spiers@expressandstar.co.uk

Dennis said the homeless problem in Cannock had worsened in recent months so it was imperative the service continued.

"We're finding that the economic situation is beginning to bite a lot more seriously than it was a year ago," he added.

"In the past two to three weeks alone we've had 11 homeless people come to us.

"Normally it's only one or two a week."

As well as its community youth work, Pye Green Youth and Community Services undertakes support work with people who are homeless, unemployed or in crisis.

Dennis added: "In the present economic climate the need for this kind of front line support is felt to be increasingly important."

Funding to help run the Portacabin has already been forthcoming with donations from HSBC Bank, Penkridge Goodies and County Councillor Patrick Corfield.

Pat Wolfe, who initially set up the Portacabin when it was run by Rugeley Lions, will continue to manage the scheme.

Delighted

She said she was appalled by the number of people in the area who went without food for days on end.

"I'm absolutely delighted that they've saved it," Pat said. "I feel so strongly that it should stay open and there is a definite need for it."

Cabinet members of Cannock Chase Council were today (Thursday) due to discuss a study they commissioned on homelessness, entitled Rough Sleeping and the Housing Needs of Young People in the Cannock Chase.

The study states that a lack of emergency and short-term accommodation in Cannock is the "major barrier" to resolving the problems of homelessness in the district.

Pupils remember as veterans visit

SIX war veterans visited pupils in Hednesford last week as part of a special remembrance event.

Staffordshire University Academy, in Marston Road – former Blake Valley technology College – welcomed the guests as well as Councillor John Beddows and regional Poppy organiser Sheila Dunning, last Friday (November 11).

This is the second year that school catering manager Julie Bickley has organised the event which allows the pupils to pay homage and chat to the veterans.

Julie said: "It was a really good day; the whole school got involved and gave our guests a really warm welcome.

Pleasure

"It was much bigger and better than last year and we are already looking at how to improve next year's event. It was a pleasure to have them visit us and the children were very respectful; they did the school proud."

During the two minute silence music teacher Philip McBride played a bugle from World War I.

The veterans then joined the pupils for lunch before admiring a special display in the canteen put together to mark their special visit.

Tenants' payment all set to be axed

COUNCIL bosses looked set today (Thursday) to axe payments to tenants who keep their houses clean.

A scheme is currently in operation where people get £50 if they vacate their council property, leaving it tidy and free from rubbish.

In October, the council's housing policy development committee proposed scrapping the Leave It Clean scheme, and the cabinet will have the final say.

Cannock Chase Council introduced the scheme in 2007 in a bid to cut the cost of having to clear empty houses and flats before they were re-let.

Credited

The initiative was launched because the council was spending an estimated £80,000 a year on clearing rubbish and personal property left behind.

All but eight per cent of properties were experiencing the problem at an average of £190 per dwelling.

Head of housing Ian Tennant said the scheme had failed to achieve its target of reducing the number of properties which require clearance.

New Boots store opens

A SPECIAL guest has been lined up to open a new store in Cannock next week.

The Boots store will open at the Orbital Centre, in Voyager Drive, next Wednesday at 9am. Several jobs have been created.

Customers can take part in a free raffle with prizes donated by neighbouring stores, among them Apollo 2000, who have put a 32-inch TV up for grabs.

Lights go out for footballers

A POWER cut disrupted two football matches on Tuesday night with one at Heath Hayes having to be abandoned.

Rushall Olympic's game against Chasetown was stopped for 10 minutes before power came back on.

Meetings followed on Twitter

CHASE residents will soon be able to follow events at council meetings as they happen.

Staff will "tweet" information from meetings starting with the Hednesford Community Forum on November 29.

It is part of plans by Cannock Chase Council to improve the way it communicates both internally and externally.

The council will provide guidance to its employees about using Facebook and Twitter. Other plans include new blog posts from chief executive, Stephen Brown, twice a month, and an online video broadcast from council leader Councillor George Adamson, after the budget is set.

The authority is to create a section on its website with "real time" updates related to winter weather, leisure centre closures and bin collections. It is also to create a Twitter hashtag – #chasewinter – to promote local weather information.

A council survey showed that 29 per cent of people questioned get information about the authority through social media, and 86 per cent of those polled have access to the internet.

Of the people surveyed, 72 per cent of respondents received a council magazine, but only 14 per cent said they would like to receive council news and information in a magazine format in the future.

The council has set targets to improve how satisfied the public is with its current communications. Of the people quizzed, 59.1 per cent said they were currently content. The authority wants this to reach 63 per cent by 2012 and 67 per cent by 2013.

Restructuring of business is now complete

THE Pritchard Group has completed a restructuring of its business which has seen it split into two separate companies.

The move will enable the business to move ahead with major developments in the area, including Lakeside Park at Bridgtown and the Avon Plaza in Cannock town centre. The group is selling some properties to release cash to part-finance future projects.

The ongoing property business will now operate alongside new firm, The Anglesey Group, which will manage the Pritchard family assets.

Chairman Fred Pritchard and chief executive Charles Tippet will oversee the Pritchard Group which will create joint venture partnerships to pursue its property projects.

The Anglesey Group will be managed by Jon Pritchard, who has recently been appointed managing director. Both companies will operate from the organisation's established base in Hednesford but follow their own separate business plans.

Free fair entrance

A RUGELEY church holds a Christmas fair on Saturday (November 19). Admission to St Augustine's Church in Station Road, is free. The fair takes place from 10am. Charities can take part at a charge of £5 per table.

Students flying high at team-building session

STUDENTS from Cannock were flying high after being invited to RAF Cosford and MoD Stafford for a special team building session.

Level two students from South Staffordshire College's Cannock campus underwent a series of challenges during the two day event.

The trip allowed the students to show off their leadership and communication skills and build on their problem solving while learning the essential skills needed to work in the public service sector.

Public services section co-ordinator Carl Edwards said: "The students are taken on a series of trips, undertaking various activities, listening to presentations and interacting with guest speakers.

Scenario

"This builds their capabilities to work within a group scenario from the very start of term.

"These opportunities are essential for our college students as they gain a perspective in public service life and develop the ability to work together."

Neighbouring councils contacted over staving of closure

Funding plea to keep A&E open round clock

THE LEADER of Cannock Chase Council is aiming to find funding to keep Stafford Hospital's A&E department open around the clock.

Councillor George Adamson said the district council's cabinet had agreed to approach both the borough and county councils at Stafford to see if they could come up with funding to stop the planned closure of the unit from 10pm to 8am from December 1.

Councillor Adamson said they did not believe the real reason for the closure was because of recruitment problems. He said: "We believe the temporary night time closure is purely financial driven. We think it is just a way of saving money and it is putting the lives of people of Cannock Chase and Stafford at risk."

Councillor Adamson said advice had been taken and it was quite legal for the council to offer funding. "What could be of more benefit to residents than to try to save lives?" he added.

He has written to Stafford borough leader Councillor Mike Heenan and Staffordshire County Council leader Councillor Philip Atkins proposing the three councils get together to open negotiations with the trust.

Growing

A petition has also been set up, which has been signed by more than 4,000 people.

Councillor Adamson said winter was the worst possible time to close the A&E at night.

He said he was also worried that ambulance cover for Cannock Chase would be reduced if people had to be transported to A&Es in Stoke and the Black Country and lives could be lost.

"I understand the decision was made on patient safety first and foremost, but it is worrying for a growing town like Stafford to lose some of its A&E service," he said.

Councillor Heenan is to head a delegation to London to fight for the return of a full time A&E department. He hopes to lead an all-party group to Westminster to meet with the Minister for Health Simon Burns.

He will be asking members of the borough council on November 29 to agree to a cross-party delegation to meet Mr Burns.

"They have announced this to be a temporary closure but I and my colleagues will want assurances from the Minister that it will be only temporary and a 24/7 A&E service will be restored as soon as possible," he said.

At Cannock community forum on Tuesday (November 22), residents can discuss the proposals with the chief executive of Stafford Hospital Lynn Hill-Tout. The meeting is at 7pm in the council chamber in Beecroft Road.

Members of Heath Hayes Art Group show off their skills at an exhibition at Heath Hayes Library, Hednesford Road

A VARIED collection of work from artists in Heath Hayes is proving to be a hit.

Members of Heath Hayes Art Group produced more than 50 pieces for the group's annual exhibition, currently on view at Heath Hayes Library, in Hednesford Road.

Animals, sunsets, trees and canals have provided inspiration for the group's 25 members.

Group chairman Sue Brindley said: "It's an accumulation of everyone's hard work during the past few months and we're all really pleased with the results."

The group meets once a week at Heath Hayes Library and the exhibition runs until the end of the month.

Jumble sales for Dog Aid

A DOG charity based in Chadsmoor is holding two jumble sales to raise funds for its work.

The events for Dog Aid will take place this Saturday and Sunday (November 19 and 20) from 11am until 3pm, at Avon business and leisure centre, on Avon Road.

Dog Aid's mission is to provide access to dog training for people with physical disabilities, assisting them to train their own dogs in specialised tasks so they can help improve their everyday lives.

Training sessions take place on Monday afternoons and all proceeds from the jumble sale will help enable these to continue.

For more information or to donate to the charity visit www.dogaid.org.uk or call Erica Bennett on 01543 899463.

Resident in call for action on speeding

DRIVERS are ignoring speed limits and putting lives at risk on a major Cannock road, according to councillors and residents.

They say the speed of vehicles travelling along the A34 out of Cannock is excessive and dangerous. Concerns have been expressed over the stretch of Stafford Road between the White Lion pub and Cannock town centre.

It goes past the turning to Cardinal Griffin RC High School and is regulated by speed cameras. It is a 30mph zone throughout and there is also a pedestrian crossing.

But Westbourne Avenue resident Gordon Taylor is calling for something to be done.

He has asked for the issue of "excessive" speeds to be considered at a meeting of Cannock Community Forum on Wednesday (November 23) and has submitted an item for discussion.

"It's dangerous," Mr Taylor said. "Somebody could get knocked over one day."

Tom Hobbins, for the coun-ty council, said there were no immediate plans to change the speed limit.

County council and police representatives will be at next week's meeting.

Advice on disabilities

AN event to find out about support for adults with learning disabilities is taking place in Cannock tomorrow (Friday).

The town's Learning Disability Locality Board is holding the information day from 10am to 2pm.

A host of organisations will offer advice and information including Staffordshire Library Services, Trading Standards, Aiming High, Welfare Benefits Advice, Staffordshire Cares, Healthnet, CASS, Cannock Chase Council and South Staffs Primary Care Trust.

The drop-in event will be held at The Ballroom at the headquarters of Cannock Chase District Council.

Walk takes in memorial

CHASE and District Ramblers' latest walk is a moderate 10-miler on Sunday (November 20).

It will take in Shoal Hill, Littleton pit mound and the Katyn Memorial. Meet at Hednesford bus station car park, Victoria Street for a 9am departure.

Police go in pursuit after car damaged

POLICE gave chase to three men who sped off in a car after claims they vandalised a new £20,000 vehicle outside a Cannock pub where they had been drinking.

The drama happened after the men, in their late 20s, had spent the evening at the Nest in John Street, Chadsmoor, emerging in the early hours of Sunday morning.

Eyewitnesses say they attacked a new black Volkswagen Passat outside, kicking in the boot and driver's door and ripping off a wing mirror before fleeing the scene. Police gave chase to the yobs as the getaway vehicle passed a patrol car near the Bank Bar in Wolverhampton Road, Cannock.

Crashed

Attempts were made to stop the car but it made off down Longford Road and Avon Road towards the A5.

Other police patrol cars joined in the pursuit until the youths lost control of the car at the Churchbridge island and crashed into the roundabout at around 1am.

Police Control Centre manager Beth Windsor said: "Officers considered using stingers to stop the car but in the end they were not needed."

She said all three, who were unhurt, were arrested on suspicion of criminal damage to a vehicle.

Plug into recycling

CANNOCK Chase Council has introduced a new scheme to recycle unwanted electrical items at Sainsbury's in Voyager Drive..

Waste electrical and electronic equipment can be left in the pink collection bank.

Any electrical device with a plug that can fit inside the 29.5cm by 24cm chute can be deposited for recycling including toasters, hairdryers and games consoles. For a full list visit the council's website.

THE history of the Gurkhas will be the subject of a talk in Cheslyn Hay next week.

Youngsters questioned over their views of area

ARTY youngsters are hitting the big screen to help improve communities across the district.

South Staffordshire housing association has worked with the community-based group B Arts to film three DVDs which are available to watch on Staffordshire young people's service youth box channel.

The stars of the shows were interviewed about what they think of the area in which they live with the majority saying they wanted more evening activities.

But almost all of those featured say they would still like to live locally when they are older.

One of those involved, 16-year-old Sophie Preece from Huntington, said: "It was really good fun being involved in the filming project with my friends.

"I think it's good that young people are asked what they think and more projects like this should be done.

"I enjoyed watching the DVDs and it was interesting to see what people in the different villages had to say."

All those interviewed attended youth clubs in the three areas and the information will now be shared with other agencies such as Huntington Pride, which works to improve local communities.

Jackie Ilic neighbourhood involvement officer at South Staffordshire housing association, said: "This has been an important project for us engaging with and gathering the views of young people.

Delighted

"They are potentially our tenants of the future so it is important that we are creating communities in which they want to live.

"We are delighted with the finished DVDs and we hope they are also going to be used by our community partners, such as the police and youth services, so we can all help to meet young people's needs and aspirations."

Moving service pays tribute to war dead

British and German military servicemen, attend the Ecumenical Remembrance Service, with (second right) German ambassador Georg Boomgaarden, at Cannock Chase German Military Cemetery

Attending the Ecumenical Remembrance Service at the German cemetery is ambassador Georg Boomgaarden

BRITISH and German voices joined in hymn and prayer in a moving ceremony of remembrance in Cannock Chase.

The service took place at the German Military Cemetery near Broadhurst Green, a memorial to some 5,000 German war dead – among them airmen, sailors and prisoners of war who died on British soil.

Ceremonies to mark Armistice Day have taken place at the tranquil spot since 1964, two years after Staffordshire County Council granted the land to the German War Graves Commission.

The new German ambassador Georg Boomgaarden travelled from London for the service.

He laid a wreath on behalf of the German nation at the foot of the memorial and was joined by the Deputy Lord Lieutenant, Sarah Elsom and the heads of Stafford, Lichfield and Penkridge councils.

Hymns in both languages were sang at the service which was conducted jointly by Pastor Peter Büttner, of the German Evangelical Lutheran Church of the West Midlands and Rev Fiona Brown, of Penkridge Methodist Church.

Cannock Chase Salvation Army led the congregation outside to a memorial cross in the cemetery where the English, German and European anthems were sang.

Afterwards Pastor Büttner said: "It is very important to have this service in this special place."

The event, which also marked 66 years of peace between the two countries, was followed by a reception at the Haling Dene Centre in Penkridge.

Memorial

Every year since the memorial was set up, parties of young Germans, mostly 16- 19 year olds, have come to Cannock Chase to tend to the graves.

At a Cannock Remembrance event, around £1,000 was raised towards the Royal British Legion and local veteran associations.

Sgt Ant Richards from Cannock Chase Local Policing Team and Special Sgt Rob Taylor, both organised an Honour Guard to help celebrate the event and thanked all those involved. Sgt Taylor said: "The feedback we have received has been very positive and the event has helped to raise the profile of remembrance.

Meanwhile, more than 500 people took to the streets for the Rugeley parade, organised by the town's branch of the Royal British Legion.

Festival of trees will aid charities

A CHURCH in Cannock will be a riot of colour when it opens its doors for its first charity tree festival.

St Luke's Church, in Mill Street, will switch on the lights of around 30 trees next Thursday (November 24) until Saturday November 26, for what is hoped to become an annual event.

Each tree will each represent a specific charity.

Entry is £2, half which goes to church funds and half which will be split into two 50p tokens to post into boxes for chosen trees.

The tokens will then be counted and paid to the appropriate charity.

Organiser Geoff Pick said: "Everyone wins. Business and groups are able to advertise their services, the church and charities gain some much needed cash, and the visitors get to see an art display at a very modest price while supporting their favourite groups."

Children under 12 can enter free of charge and refreshments will also be available throughout the festival which runs from 10am until 7pm on each of the three days.

There will also be a certificate for the tree judged to be the best decorated.

Play trail at trust's HQ wins accolade

STAFFORDSHIRE Wildlife Trust has won an environmental award for its fun play trail for youngsters.

The track, which runs through the grounds of the Wolseley centre headquarters near Rugeley, received the sustainable tourism accolade at the Stafford Council green awards.

Funded by Staffordshire County Council's aiming high for disabled children programme, the trail, which opened in March, includes a shelter building area, sound sculptures, climbing tree and web swing to encourage natural play.

The trust's southern education manager Jo Olivant said: "We are extremely happy to have won the award for our natural play trail.

Boardwalk

"It not only allows young people to enjoy having fun in a natural environment but also gives them more opportunities to understand the value of play in the outdoors."

In addition to the award the trust also received a commendation in the community category for its new boardwalk, which is expected to be used by 50,000 visitors a year.

The ceremony recognises local organisations that demonstrate commitment to environmental practice and sustainable development.

The winning class will also be taken to the famous Jodrell Bank Observatory on January 19, where they will take part in a mind-blowing workshop and discover more about the solar system.

THE joint director of music at Lichfield Cathedral, Ben Lamb, will be giving an organ recital in Cannock this weekend. It will take place St Mary's Church on Saturday, November 19, at 11am.

Scouts equipped for camping after boost

YOUNGSTERS at a scout group in Norton Canes are brimming with joy after receiving a £500 boost from Staffordshire County Council.

The 1st Norton Canes scout group was chosen to receive the funding by the county councillor for Cannock villages John Rowley as part of his local community fund allocation.

David Cross, group scout leader, said: "The group has recently spent £2,000 on updating and expanding the camping equipment and we are thrilled to receive this support from Councillor Rowley.

"The money has been used to purchase new and bigger tents, catering equipment and numerous other items to use on camp."

There are 62 young people who attend the beavers, cubs and scouts groups, held at Norton Canes Primary School, in School Road, on three evenings a week.

Councillor Rowley said: "I am a big advocate of the scout movement, it helps such a good cross-section of people from all walks of life, and as more youngsters join the more money they need to accommodate them.

Equipment

"The money will help purchase desperately-needed equipment and I really hope this donation encourages more people to support such a worthy group.

"It has been a privilege to be able to help them."

Five-years for trucker who caused death crash

Family tells of agony over lorry driver trial

A LORRY driver who sped through a red light and ploughed into a Burntwood couple's car killing them both has been jailed for five years.

Jurors ruled Czech national Pavel Dolejs was driving dangerously when he caused the deaths of 29-year old Tony Malpass and his partner, Joanne Beardsmore, 35.

Father-of-three Dolejs was going over the speed limit, had cut short his mandatory rest period and drove past the traffic lights on the A5 "as though they were not there", Stafford crown court heard.

The couple were travelling in their Kia Rio car when it was in collision with the HGV at the junction of the A5 and the B5011, near the Terrace Restaurant. A laptop computer was found in the cab and the jury was told Dolejs may have been distracted by it when he crashed.

The trucker denied being responsible for the crash, on June 17, and tried to blame Mr Malpass by claiming the lights at the junction of Ogley Hay Road were on green.

Eyewitnesses confirmed Mr Malpass had set off from the stop line after the lights turned green in his favour.

Dolejs was also banned from driving for five years and ordered to take an extended driving test.

Dolejs, aged 44, denied two charges of causing death by dangerous driving and two alternative charges of causing death by careless driving.

An examination of the tachometer in the lorry showed that in the moments before the crash, Dolejs speed was 47mph, dropping to 43mph at the lights.

The devastated family of Joanne, who had two children, said the three-day trial had been agonising.

Joanne's mother Pat Williams said: "Two people have lost their lives that shouldn't have done and it has left a massive hole in our lives."

Ms Beardsmore's 16-year-old son and 12-year-old daughter are being cared for by Joanne's parents.

Glenn Hughes accepts the Breakthrough Act of the Year award for Black Country Communion at the Classic Rock Roll Of Honour ceremony

Rockers win top honour

A ROCK band fronted by Cannock-born Glenn Hughes has landed a top prize at the Classic Rock Roll of Honour awards.

Black Country released their second album earlier this year and won breakthrough act of the year.

The quartet also comprises Dudley-born drummer Jason Bonham, son of late Led Zeppelin drummer John, guitarist Joe Bonamassa and keyboard player Derek Sherinian.

Hughes tweeted "sweet" after the band's award was announced at the ceremony at the Roundhouse in London.

Black Country Communion played their debut gig at Wolverhampton Civic Hall in January in front of 3,000 fans.

Other winners were Manic Street Preachers, celebrating their 25th anniversary, who picked up the classic songwriters award, while guitarist Jeff Beck collected a living legend award for his lifetime achievements.

The Classic Rock Roll Of Honour also recognised the achievements luminaries such as Stevie Winwood, former Pink Floyd star Roger Waters, Deep Purple and Jethro Tull.

Goodies' last ever handouts

A PENKRIDGE fundraising group has released its final ever list of donations following the death of founder and chairman Winifred Laffan MBE earlier this year.

Penkridge Goodies formed in 1976 and over the years raised £327,000. Mrs Laffan died in June and remaining committee members decided they could not continue without her.

During 36 years of fundraising many thousands of lives have been touched by the work of the organisation and group members Jenny Bamford, Dawn Payne and Pet Hughes paid tribute to all those who had helped the Goodies.

"We would like to express our sincere gratitude and thanks to all who have in any way assisted or contributed to the Goodies over the years," Mrs Hughes said.

"This is the end of an era but it has been a great pleasure to be part of something so special."

Their 2010/11 list of charitable beneficiaries totalled £8,680 and included £3,250 to British Heart Foundation's My Heart in Cannock appeal.

Other donations included £200 to Penkridge Middle School, £800 to Penkridge Senior Citizens' welfare committee, £100 to the MS Society and £500 to Aberystwyth RNLI.

Midlands Air Ambulance received £2,000, while £130 went to Cannock Homeless Charity, £500 to Penkridge & District Community First Responders, £200 to 3rd Penkridge Rainbows and £1,000 to Penkridge Community Fund, formerly known as Penkridge Charities.

Students in deer survey

SOUTH Staffordshire College students had the chance to study deer activity around Cannock Chase as part of their development.

Countryside management students at the college's Rodbaston campus completed two trips as part of their deer management module, giving them a taste of a career in wildlife and park conservation.

The 35 students visited sites, heard talks from Forestry Commission and national deer expert Pete Pursglove, and spent time with rangers.

According to the Deer Initiative, the current deer population has hit approximately 40,000 and is expected to increase by 10 per cent per year.

Charity seeks festive helpers

MIDLANDS Air Ambulance is looking for happy helpers during the festive season in their bid to raise funds for their life-saving work.

The charity has teamed up with Birches Valley Forest Centre for the fundraiser and needs strong volunteers to help carry trees to visitors' cars and collect donations.

Staff will kick start festivities on Saturday December 3, where they will be on hand each weekend throughout the month.

To get involved call the office on 0800 840 2040.

Independent traders to lose out in store wars

Major chains are taking trade from smaller retailers – claim

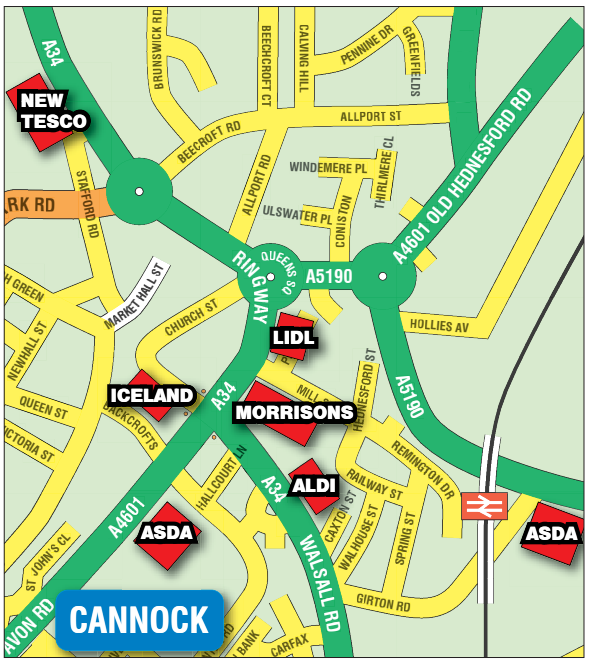
SMALL traders in Cannock fear they will be the victims of store wars being fought in the town.

The map here shows the fierce competition between the major chains which town centre bosses fear could hit the high street.

This year has seen a second Asda store, off the A5190 Lichfield Road, come into the town after the supermarket chain took over Netto. In addition, there has been an extension of the Sainsbury's in the Orbital Retail Centre, to the south of the town centre, boosting its staff number to 480.

A new Tesco Express is also planned for the A34 Stafford Road and a main 80,000sq ft store is to open in Hednesford town centre next year as part of the £56m Gateway regeneration scheme.

Cannock has a 24-hour Asda in Avon Road, a Morrisons store in Mill Street, an Aldi in Walsall Road and a Tesco in Heath Hayes, as well as town centre Lidl and Iceland shops shown on the map.



Major supermarkets are in a fierce fight for trade, with new stores and extensions

Trader Nick Greatbatch, aged 39, said the big supermarkets were hurting small market traders like himself.

He has sold fruit and vegetables on a market stall in Cannock for the past 20 months and says he believes his produce is better than that provided by the big stores.

"A lot of my stuff is all freshly picked. I've got cabbages, tomatoes and it's all great value," he said. "People start going to supermarkets because it's a lot more convenient. I've got a friend in the pub trade who says he is losing out to big supermarkets.

Struggling

"There are too many opening. I still think people will keep buying fresh fruit and vegetables though."

Cannock Shopping Centre manager Natal Chapman has also warned that the town's independent stores are struggling against the competition as the supermarket chains battle to win bigger shares of trade.

She responded to the proposed Tesco Express development, which would replace the existing St Giles Hospice charity shop, by saying: "From the town centre perspective there is a worry when there are new things opening outside of the centre. Obviously for that area of Cannock it is going to help with the regeneration, but there is not much loyalty and if the price is right it will attract people to go there which is a real concern."

The cut-price Aldi, in Walsall Road

The 24-hour Asda store in Avon Road

Cannock Chase Council's cabinet member for town centre regeneration Councillor Diane Todd said she hoped Cannock's shops and market stalls would not suffer.

Pipeline

She said a town centre regeneration scheme for Cannock was in the pipeline, adding: "It is too early to say what is planned exactly. Talks are still ongoing.

"In the long term Cannock town centre will benefit.

"We believe Hednesford will benefit from increased footfall when the new Tesco opens there. We obviously want to see improvement for all our town centres."

Plans for the new Tesco store and three other shops in Cannock will create 15 jobs. If given permission it could open within a year.

Another new Tesco store is also to form part of the Rugeley regeneration scheme. About 150 jobs will be created at a 40,000sq ft store to be built on the former Celcon site in Power Station Road. Cannock Chase Council has asked Tesco to ensure that it recruits staff from the area.

Almost 4,000 see Hoard on tour of States

ALMOST 4,000 visitors flocked to see the Staffordshire Hoard in the first nine days of an exhibition in America.

Bosses at the National Geographic Museum in Washington DC say the second weekend of the Anglo-Saxon items being on display proved more popular than the first. The opening weekend saw 1,047 visitors from across the States see the touring exhibition.

Figures from the second weekend show the museum welcomed 1,272 visitors over the period.

And a workshop on Anglo-Saxon cuisine at the museum was a complete sell-out.

In the first nine days, 3,745 visitors went through the doors at the National Geographic Museum.

Museum supervisor Brendan Cartwright said the number of visitors to the Staffordshire Hoard was "bigger than expected".

He said: "Being here for four months we would hope to have about 30-40,000 visitors over the coming months.

Display

"I think the idea of buried treasure is the big one – something that strikes a chord anywhere.

"People like the idea of gold on display – ancient craftsmanship right here."

Museum bosses said the first day crowd of 650 represented the biggest attraction since the 3rd Century BC Chinese Terracotta Warriors display in 2009, which was eventually seen by 280,000 people over four-and-a- half months.

The Hoard is co-owned by Stoke-on-Trent City Council and Birmingham City Council.

Both local authorities helped to launch a 100-piece, 6,000 sq ft display of the collection on October 29.

The hoard of more than 3,300 artefacts was found in farmer Fred Johnson's field in Hammerwich by metal detecting enthusiast Terry Herbert in 2009.

Lantern walk a success

THE newly formed Friends of Hednesford Park say they were delighted with the success of the group's first community event.

More than 150 people took part in the Lantern Story Walk around the park on October 31.

Families donned fancy dress and brought home-made lanterns and following its success the event will be repeated next year.

The friends' group says it want next year's event to be bigger and better. Organisers say they will install well lit areas for children's artwork and expect more marshals to help. The group also plans to seek more support from traders.

Children's artwork which was displayed on the night will be shown again by the park tennis court from November 16 to 19 and November 23 to 26.

Cannock Chase Council is applying for £2.6m million of Heritage Lottery Fund money to improve the park.

The planned work would include improving paths to make half of the park accessible and refurbishment of tennis courts and tree planting.

Wilkinson winners

SEBASTIAN Nejad, of Bevan Lee Road, Cannock, won £50 of vouchers to spend at Lichfield's Wilkinson store in The Chronicle's October 27 edition.

Ten runners-up, who receive £20 of vouchers, are: Mrs M Ward, Carmichael Close, Lichfield; Mrs S Yates, of Morley Road, Burntwood; Mrs J Armstrong, of Hednesford Road, Norton Canes; Mrs K Gee, of Cherrytree Road, Brereton; Glennis Longford, of Rose Lane, Burntwood; Mrs J Chilton, of Pye Green Road, Cannock; Mrs J Tebbett of Pebble Mill Drive, Cannock; Mrs Lisa Lacey, of Woodford Way, Heath Hayes; Susan Smith, of Frog Lane, Lichfield and Mrs M Price, of Cumberland Crescent, Burntwood.

Volunteer Santas sought for dash around the town

A CHARITY is looking for volunteers to take place in a fundraising Santa Dash across Cannock town centre.

The Newlife event, in aid of disabled and sick children, will be held on December 17.

The race covers a one-mile course around the town centre. Entrants can run, walk or be pushed around in a wheelchair.

Chief executive Sheila Brown said: "We currently have seven local youngsters needing Newlife's help to buy them equipment so we need to get people signed up right now."

The dash will start at Chase Leisure Centre, in Stafford Road, at 11am. It will go through Cannock Park and finish at South Staffordshire College's Cannock campus, at The Green.

Mrs Brown says Newlife guarantees that 100 per cent of money raised will go to support local children like Jake Burnyeat, aged 15. The Hednesford Valley High School pupil has a rare neurological condition which affects speech and development and – in Jake's case – has resulted in nighttime seizures.

Jake, who is more than six feet tall, needed a specialist bed and mattress which would stand up to the rigours of the nighttime seizures. To take part call 0800 988 4640, email info@newlifecharity.co.uk or visit www.newlifecharity.co.uk/events

The Glasshouse Golf Society handed over a cheque to Macmillan fundraising manager Janos Toth during a presentation evening last week.

Defying odds to help the young saddle up

International rider Oliver Townsend with Georgia Massey of 1st2 Achieve Training in Cannock

by SARAH HAZELWOOD
s.hazelwood@expressandstar.co.uk

A HORSE rider who feared she would never walk again has joined forces with an Olympic hopeful to encourage young people in Cannock into equine training and employment.

Georgia Massey, of Hawks Green, set up 1st2 Achieve Training, in Elmwood Close, Cannock, in 2009 after being made redundant twice in 10 months.

Two years on, international rider Oliver Townsend, who is in the running for next year's Olympic games, has saddled up to help promote the business – which also supports the Riding for the Disabled Association (RDA). Managing director Georgia, aged 36, suffered a severe back injury during an endurance ride in 2006.

Despite being faced with the prospect of never walking or riding again, she defied the odds and after intense rehabilitation made a full recovery.

Losing her job was the final boost to encourage Georgia to pursue her dream to teach others while helping those who had also suffered horse related incidents.

"I have ridden all my life and to be told I may never walk again after the accident was hugely upsetting," she said.

"Riding is my passion and it is great to be able to give something back to the RDA which supported me so much as I worked to get back into riding.

Thrilled

"It is exceptionally important that we have Oliver on board. We are all so thrilled that he has decided to help us promote our services.

"The business is doing really well but as always we need as much help as we can get to ensure our students get the best out of our programmes."

Working with a range of organisations the Government funded courses aim to get young people and the unemployed back into work.

The team also oversees Bishton Pony Club at Wolseley Bridge, in Rugeley.

Anyone interested in the courses or becoming a sponsor should call Georgia on 07790196247 or visit www.1st2achieve.co.uk

Revellers turn back the clock

MORE than 100 people danced to the sounds of the 1940s at a wartime bash in Cannock.

The bash, hosted by district council chairman Councillor John Beddows, was staged at the civic centre ballroom in Beecroft Road to raise money for the Royal British Legion.

The clock was turned back 60 years as the ballroom was transformed into a swing-style dance hall adorned with red, white and blue bunting on Sunday night (November 13).

Sandbags were piled high at the entrance to the building which was lined on either side by Second World War trucks. Revellers sat at rows of tables to be served by waitresses dressed in Land Army dungarees from a makeshift Naafi canteen.

Later they were able to spend money in a penny bazaar set up in a camouflaged Army tent.

Guests were entertained by pupils from the Cardinal Griffin School Swing Band.

Having a good time at the wartime bash are Katie McBey, Louise Rose, Vince Cooks and Lisa Shepard

Cake maker, Samantha Lote from Norton Canes with her award-winning cake

Samantha's award is icing on the cake

WINNING her first award was the icing on the cake for master baker Samantha Lote.

The Norton Canes mother-of-two loved making cakes so much she turned it into a business. Now she has entered her first competition and walked off with a silver award.

Samantha, aged 33, who runs Funky Fairy Cakes Stop from her High Street home, entered a ladybird cake into the Cake International Show at the NEC in Birmingham.

"The standard of entries was so high, I didn't even bother to check the result until I picked the cake up on Sunday to take home," she said. "My husband Dean went to have a look and said I should come over. My cake had got a silver. I was so happy, I burst into tears."

Samantha got the ladybird idea from a cake she made for a raffle at Norton Canes Primary where her daughters, aged eight and nine, go to school.

Neighbours' shock at death of man, 37

Richard Sedgley

POLICE have launched an investigation after a man was found collapsed outside his home in Cannock and then later died.

Richard Sedgley, 37, was rushed to Stafford Hospital after he was discovered in Woottons Court, Stoney Croft, but died two days later.

Officers investigating his death say it is not being treated as suspicious but they want to trace Mr Sedgley's final movements.

A post-mortem ruled he died of a head injury but police want to find out how he sustained the fatal impact.

Chief Inspector Carl Ratcliffe said: "I would urge anyone who has any information, no matter how insignificant it may seem, to contact us as it may help us in building a clear picture." Residents of Woottons Court flats were left shocked by the death.

One elderly resident, who did not wish to be named, said he was found in a bad way outside the flats by a neighbour who was on her way to work.

Police

She said: "I spoke to the police and they don't seem to have spoken to anyone who heard or saw anything."

She added: "I know he's got a little girl, and her mother lives in Burntwood – I think they divorced or separated about three and a half years ago when he started living here."

Mr Sedgley was found at 7.45am on Saturday (November 5) but died in hospital at 1.30am on the Monday after.

Poppy worn with pride on Remembrance Day

THERE is a date we should remember
And that is the 11th of November
That is the day we mourn our lost
Who gave their lives at a big cost
Still today the fighting goes on
We are all affected, each and everyone
To see the Poppy worn so proud
Makes us want to shout aloud
There's just no need today to fight
Surely the politicians can put things right?
But the future looks bleak as I write
There is no one to shine a light
We pray for peace each and every day
I hope our fears they will allay
But with the threat of terrorists about
We must go a long way – there is no doubt
So what I asked for on Remembrance Day
Was for the Lord to have his say

Anarchy fears over voting rule change

THE vote has come in that Unison has balloted its membership for strike action on November 30 and straight away the old chestnut is forwarded by the Government that it is thinking of changing the rules so that more than 50 per cent of those eligible to vote should be in favour of the action proposed.

Like the General Election, all the electorate that have registered are invited to vote. But that is where the similarity would end. It would be interesting to see under the criteria proposed, would we have a government to run the country? I personally do not believe that we would have any local government because the voting figures have fallen year on year.

If this was thought out right through then we would have anarchy – and that is not good for anyone.

Small traders have a right to be afraid

CANNOCK small traders have every right to fear the impact of local supermarket expansion.

Eleven years ago Tesco applied for planning permission to build a new supermarket in Hednesford, a town dying on its feet, throttled by unnecessary traffic calming. My initial reaction was a new Tesco store would finish it off, but,now Cannock can look out. The new proposed 80,000 sq ft Tesco development will be 10,000 sq ft bigger than Cannock shopping precinct and will offer a full range of goods besides food, clothing, electrical, hardware and stationery. In addition there will be 700-plus free parking spaces in Hednesford.

There will be another budget food/non-food store and a number of other shops still to be defined. This high profile competition will probably signal the end of the existing Co-Op and the consequential relocation of the post office.

Councillors at both county and parish levels fail to grasp the basic economic fact that the income, ie wages, benefits and pensions in any area is a fixed pot of money available to spend on life's essentials. The more new stores built, the thinner the money is spread around.

To sustain a store the size of Tesco based on other supermarket turnovers would require an additional 12,000 households spending £80 per week. The population of the Cannock area is around 55,000 and is currently served by a huge Asda, a smaller Asda – selling 10.000 items – a large Morrisons, a massive Sainsbury's, a large Tesco and the proposed Hednesford superstore.

These companies are the masters of retail selling, their expansion and profits prove it. They don't open stores just anywhere, they do their research. Do they know something that the general public doesn't know? Are there plans afoot for a massive residential building programme? Are we going to lose more chunks of green belt? Bet your life on it.

Grateful for aid after fall

I WOULD like to thank all the kind people who came to my rescue and rang for an ambulance and for my daughter when I fell on the car park in Rugeley on Saturday, October 22. I am extremely grateful to you all.

MAVIS SMITH
RUGELEY

There's nothing wrong with me

THERE'S nothing the matter with me,
I'm as healthy as can be.
I've arthritis in both knees
And, when I talk
I talk with a wheeze.
My pulse is weak, and my blood is thin,
But I'm awfully well
For the shape I'm in.

Arch supports I have for my feet,
Or I wouldn't be able to walk down the street.
Sleep is denied me night after night,
But ev'ry morning I find I'm all right.
My memory is failing.
My head's in a spin,
But I'm awfully well
For the shape I'm in.

The moral of this tale I unfold
That for you and me who are getting old.
It's better to say 'I'm fine' with a grin
Than to let folks know
What a shape we're in.
How do I know that my youth is all spent?
Well, my get-up-and-go
Has got-up-and-went,
But I really don't mind,
When I think with a grin
Of all the fine places my get-up has been.

Old age is golden,
I've heard it said,
But sometimes I wonder
As I climb into bed,
With my ears in a drawer,
My teeth in a cup,
My eyes on the table until I get up.
E'er sleep overcomes me, I say to myself,
Is there anything else
I can lay on the shelf?
When I was young,
My slippers were red.
I could kick my heels
Right over my head.

When I grew older,
My slippers were blue
And still I could dance
The whole night through.

Now when I'm old,
My slippers are black.
I walk to the shops
And puff my way back.

I get up each morning
And dust off my wits,
Pick up the paper
And read the obits.
If my name is still missing,
I know I'm not dead.
So I get a good breakfast
And go back to bed.

Golden opportunity for community

WITH reference to the front-page article (November 10). Like most residents of Cannock, I shared in the disappointment and shock on learning that Cannock was not included on the Olympic Torch route.

I cannot believe that the council officers at the time, who were there to serve the people of Cannock, failed to see how badly they were letting their constituents down.

What a golden opportunity it would have been for the whole community to come together as one and show Cannock in a positive light, rather than the all-too-often negative image projected.

The joy of our neighbouring communities can only add to our disappointment. When will such a momentous occasion occur again? In 2006, my daughter Anna successfully led an expedition to take the first paraplegic woman safely across the Greenland ice-cap. Karen, who is paralysed from the chest down, recently qualified to compete in the Paralympics hand cycling as a member of the British team.

Perhaps those who nominated local people to carry the torch will still have the joy of seeing them selected, though we had visualised the relay passing through Cannock.

Demolition on cards for historic buildings

HISTORIC buildings on a Cannock industrial estate could be demolished to make way for 75 new homes – if council chiefs back the move.

Developer St Modwen has already won permission to build a mix of detached, semi-detached and terraced family homes on the site of the Rumer Hill Industrial Estate. The firm has now applied to Cannock Chase Council for permission to knock down the existing buildings to make way for the scheme. The 1930s buildings have fallen into a poor state of repair.

They were part of the pit head area at the old Mid-Cannock Colliery.

The former mine shower and baths block are among the buildings which would be knocked down.

More than 40,000 sq ft of former Coal Board buildings on the site would be demolished to make way for the new development. Permission has been given to build the new homes, on eight acres of land, subject to the authority receiving Section 106 funding for infrastructure improvements.

The scheme is part of a local government requirement to provide 5,800 new homes in Cannock Chase between 2006 and 2026.

Some 2,400 of those must be within the main urban area of Cannock, Hednesford and Heath Hayes.

A strategic housing assessment of the site stated it was capable of accommodating up to 124 new homes.

However, a report that went before the council earlier this year described the figure as a "clear overestimate" which did not take into account the need to provide buffer zones and retain a pumping reservoir.

Vermin

St Modwen proposes to build a 10ft-high embankment topped with a 6ft fence as a further shield against industrial noise.

Before the demolition, a survey would be carried out to identify any areas of excessive dust, chemicals, or the presence of vermin, which may require further planning approval.

Mike Timmins, senior planning surveyor at St Modwen, said: "Our plans for Rumer Hill will see this area of Cannock transformed into a sustainable new residential community."

Open day at community venue

Manager Laurie Bowman and Town Council chairman Alan Pearson at Pye Green Community Centre open day

A COMMUNITY centre in Hednesford as opened its doors following a £400,000 revamp.

Pye Green Community Centre in Hednesford has been extended and refurbished, with a meeting room and an exhibition area installed, while its facade boasts a glass-walled reception and Scandinavian-style wooden panels.

Members of the Friends of Hednesford Park, Stafford South West Youth Offending Team, Staffordshire Wildlife Trust, Find It In Hednesford, Cannock Chase AONB, and Stars Dance Academy attended an open day to hail the completion of the work.

Peter Harrison from the centre said: "We have had hundreds of people through the doors."

Mini-market for church funds

A MINI-market to raise funds for the ongoing refurbishment of Great Wyrley Wesley Methodist church takes place this weekend. The Walsall Road church is hosting the sale on Saturday (November 19) from 10.30am to noon. Attractions will include a raffle, bric-a-brac, tombola, groceries, cakes and crafts as well as stalls with a Christmas theme.

There will also be a farm fresh fruit and vegetable stall. Refreshments will be available and admission is free

Calendar Girls bare all to raise charity funds

A GROUP of women have bared all for a charity calendar to raise money and awareness for a Cannock help group.

The Tuesday Stroke Group ranges in ages up to 74 and have all been affected by strokes in some way.

Four of the women, including Miss January Audrey and Miss May, Jayne, are themselves stroke survivors.

Organiser Pat Stanley, aged 70, who is Miss September said: "We really enjoyed making the calendar. We were a bit embarrassed for the first picture but we soon got into it and started having fun.

"Since we made the calendar the girls haven't stopped talking about it." Mrs Stanley added: "We came up with the idea last year.

"Two of the girls suggested we be Calendar Girls and we thought it was a bit of a joke, but we really had a great time making it"

Agreed

Pat said: "The Tuesday Stroke Group is a social society for those affected by strokes and allows them to see that they are not alone, talk and see that it is possible to get better."

Originally the women hoped to sell 250 calendars, but to date have sold around 325.

Half of all the money raised by the calendar goes to The Stroke Association nationally to aid research, while the other half comes directly to help stroke services in Cannock.

The photographer was a friend of the group who agreed to do all the pictures free of charge as he had been directly affected when his father had suffered from a stroke.

The women are already making plans for fundraising activities next year, and hold regular raffles and coffee mornings to keep raising money.

The calendars cost £4.50 and are available from Mrs Stanley on 01543 423750, and also from Cannock Chase MP Aidan Burley MP.

HEATHSIDE WI

WI county executive Sheila Moulton is presented with a basket of fruit by Barbara Williams of Shareshill WI

County executive is welcomed to meeting

THE Heathside Group meeting on October 27 was hosted by Hayes Green. There was a good turnout from Hayes Green, Cannock, Norton Canes and Shareshill WIs

Chairman Sandy Hobbs welcomed county executive Sheila Moulton, and the speaker David Bartley. Sheila gave an amusing stock market report and talked about the new improved Cornerstone newsletter. She finished off with a poem about the positive effects of belonging to WI.

Barbara Williams of Shareshill gave the vote of thanks and presented a basket of fruit.

Mr Bartley's Black Country banter and poetry kept everyone laughing. The vote of thanks was offered by Cannock.

Hayes Green provided refreshments and Mrs Hobbs announced the competition winners – an interpretation of "The Black Country" – as Chris Desbergen and Maureen Hughes. Raffle winners were Sandy Hobbs, Maureen Hughes, Dianne Bevan and Barbara Addison. A further draw for the flowers from the buffet table was won by Kitty Churchill.

Vote of thanks for the hosts was given by Norton Canes.

Strictly come dancing as ladies learn steps

HAYES GREEN WI

PRESIDENT Sandy Hobbs opened the November meeting and after the usual singing of Jerusalem, minutes were read and the treasurer's report given.

Mrs Hobbs discussed with the members the annual council meeting and the Heathside Group meeting,

Te speaker/demonstrator was Lyn Luty, accompanied by her mother Joan, who was trying to teach members dance steps.

The ladies took their partners and Lyn and Joan demonstrated the steps before they all attempted to do it without music. Then they tried it with music and some ladies who go to dancing classes were very good.

After a refreshments break, Sandy continued with the rest of the agenda, discussing the forthcoming Christmas party and meal, the Heathside carol service, the Lichfield carol service and the monthly luncheon.

The raffle was won by Lyn Onion who also won the competition – a hair ornament. The meeting ended with more dancing to I Am The Music Man, finishing off with Agadoo and the Okey Cokey. Mary Russell gave the vote of thanks and Lyn's fee will go to The Air Ambulance.

● The Chronicle has been asked to point out that the write-up of the last Hayes Green WI meeting inadvertently reported that guest speaker Barbara Marshall had been awarded an OBE for work on the Millennium Chadsmoor Tapestries. This was not correct.

The Chadsmoor Tapestry Group was honoured with the Queen's Award for Voluntary Service, but Barbara Marshall had no involvement in its Cannock Embroidery project and has not been associated with the Chadsmoor Tapestry Group for more than 10 years.

Latest meeting will feature a talk on back-to-back houses

CHASE TERRACE LADIES CLUB

MEMBERS enjoyed a very pleasant evening with the opportunity of buying Christmas presents/cards as well as many other items supplied by the seven ladies who displayed their table-top goods.

Stallholders included Pam Moore, who recently gave a talk and brought more of her beautifully painted silk scarves, jewellery and skin creams. She can be contacted on 01889 586718.

Amanda from AJ Creative Gifts, Hednesford, displayed some amazing items that she puts together herself. For example, she makes a 'wedding cake' gift made from towels and flannels. She can be reached on 01543 423859 or at her shop on the corner of Market Street and Cardigan Place.

Another Amanda, who is local to Burntwood, at 6 Water Street (01543 679567), runs a communal shop which sells all sorts of interesting gifts with hand-made jewellery, scrap-booking, invitations and card making supplies.

She also does children's parties and runs classes and workshops. E-mail her at amandacards@hotmail.co.uk

Kerry Davis brought her large collection of greetings cards/wrapping paper and many other items. Kerry can also supply the most beautiful stationery items – her number is 01543 670606.

Another guest from Hednesford, Julie, who runs 'the Little Lingerie Shop' near AJ Creative Gifts, stocks some gorgeous items of underwear and tights plus other products. She can be contacted on 01543 871411.

Bernadette was welcomed back. She sells jewellery, make-up and many other goods and sells clothes online with well-known brand names, with free local delivery. She can be seen on Facebook with special offers available.

Club member Gail brought in some old coins in the form of bookmarks, ear-rings and keyrings and took orders for special dates like birthdays or anniversaries. The evening was hectic but fruitful and enjoyed by all.

Today (Thursday), in the meeting room at the back of Sankeys Corner Library, Mac Joseph is visiting to talk about the old back-to-back houses in Birmingham.

Bought to you by PMA Productions, the company that brought you last year's successful Cinderella is a story of love and romance but also of hate and jealousy. As the beautiful, Snow White longs to meet a Prince to fall in love with her evil stepmother is plotting her downfall when she discovers from her magic mirror that Snow White is the most beautiful of all.

With a talented professional cast, George Crichley for PMA Productions recreates the magic and the mirth with modern familiar songs and comedy galore that everyone can enjoy but based on the traditional tale that we all love.

Come to The Prince of Wales Centre from 24th to 31st December 2011 to clap along with Snow White and the handsome prince and to shout and boo at the evil stepmother.

Innovation Centre manager Hilary Foxley with some of the prints on display at the exhibition

Prints on display in 'highlight of the year'

MORE than 170 prints and digital images are currently on display at the Chasewater Innovation Centre as part of a society's exhibition.

Cannock Photographic Society is hosting its 54th annual exhibition until Sunday, November 27.

It is a chance to take in more than 175 prints and digital images featuring a vast array of different images both urban and rural. Entrance is free, and the centre is open from 9am to 4pm Monday to Friday, and 11am to 3pm on Saturdays and Sundays. Some of the displays include the best local print taken within a 10-mile radius of Cannock town centre, best nature image and best creative image.

John Cartlidge, chairman of the society, said: "Our exhibition is the highlight of our year."

The club meets every Thursday evening from 7.45pm to 10pm at Mill Street Methodist Church Hall on Mill Street in Cannock. Visit www.cannockps.co.uk

Later opening

CANNOCK Shopping Centre is to open later in the week up to Christmas. The centre in Market Hall Street will open until 6pm each night from December 19. On Christmas Eve the centre will shut at 4pm. It will be closed on Boxing Day and New Year's Day but will open on the bank holidays – December 27 and January 2 from 10am to 4pm.

Olympian Imran will open new fire station

OLYMPIC hockey hero Imran Sherwani will open Cannock's new fire station next week.

The 49-year-old newsagent from Rugeley grabbed two goals in the Great Britain team's gold medal victory over Germany at the Seoul Olympics in 1988.

He will be guest of honour at the opening of the Cannock Community Fire Station, which cost £4.3 million to build.

The official opening ceremony at the Hednesford Road station will also be attended by local dignitaries and firefighters.

Chief fire officer Peter Dartford said: "At a time where there is a real buzz of excitement about the forthcoming Olympics it seemed fitting that we invited an Olympic gold medallist to open one of our community fire stations.

"The station here at Cannock is already proving hugely successful.

"Over 3,500 people visited within two weeks of opening to the community and we are attracting regular bookings from a range of groups."

Imran Sherwani

Services

Chairman of the Fire and Rescue Service, Councillor Len Bloomer said: "We are extremely proud of the new station and more importantly what it means to the communities we serve.

"This building represents a completely new way for our services to be delivered and provides a model for others to follow in the future.

"It's fantastic that the local community has embraced the station, the number of people using the facilities has already exceeded our expectations."

Firefighters moved into the new community fire station, which comes complete with state-of-the-art training and professional development facilities, in February 2011.

The station has been designed to provide a range of facilities for the local community and partners to use, including a community meeting room, a dedicated area for student firefighters, a gym for supervised groups and a partnership area. A total of 42 firefighters are based at the station.

Jobs booster as boot camp set to launch

AN army style boot camp complete with indoor assault course is set to be launched in Cannock – with 10 jobs created.

BC One is a unique concept for the West Midlands, bringing fitness training back to basics. It will be based at a disused Cannock factory – the former Bristols and Round building, at Walford Works, in Longford Road.

As well as being a fitness facility for the public BC One could also become a training centre for police officers and firefighters.

Cannock Chase District Council is also in talks to provide a base for a mini-Olympics style community games event next year. BC One will be officially launched to the paying public at the start of January but is hosting a preview event on Sunday (November 20) from 10-11.30am followed by taster sessions throughout December.

BC One owners Sarah Stanley and Ian Stanley with fitness instructor Joe Creswell

BC One has been set up by personal trainer Ian Stanley and his sister-in-law Sarah. The £40,000 facilities will include an assault course based around the perimeter of the 8,000 sq ft warehouse which will include rope climbs, tyres, beams and cargo nets.

There will be a number of functional workout classes combining elements of CrossFit, circuit training, rope climbing, gymnastic rings and kettlebells. Group fitness classes will be run throughout the day and will involve up to 30 people in the session per time.

Ian, aged 40, from Great Wyrley, a personal trainer for more than 10 years, said: "We have been working on this venture for the last two years and we have finally got the required planning permission and licences in place. Everyone associated with BC One is so excited about its potential."

Manager Sarah has 15 years of experience in front of house in the leisure and hotel industry.

She added: "We are so excited about BC One.We think it will be a real community focal point. It will initially create 10 jobs with the potential of more jobs to be created in the future."

Membership will be £20 per month for off-peak which includes eight sessions and £35 full peak to include 16 sessions.

There is also a pay as you go option at £5 per session.

To join BC One or for more information about this weekend's event and taster sessions email info@bc-one.co.uk or find BC One on Facebook boot camp bc one.

Planning row over sheds at allotments site

Plotholders' threat throw in the trowel

ALLOTMENT holders in a village near Rugeley have been told they may have to take down their sheds because they do not have planning permission.

Lichfield District Council says the traditional wooden huts on the Plum Puddding allotment site are banned because the privately owned site is on green belt land and next to the Trent & Mersey Canal conservation area.

But the site's 105 plotholders disagree.

Builder Robin Cunningham said: "Talk about jobsworths – the council is just being stupid. There are allotment sheds all over the country – why should it be any different in our village?"

The site was quickly filled when local farmer Paul Boston set it up in March but council officers carrying out a survey in September took exception to the 44 sheds so far erected and wrote to Mr Boston about their "cumulative impact" on the visual amenity.

Tenants

Mr Boston said: "I can have pigpens on the site, I can have hen houses and polytunnels, I can even have stables with skids, but the council are saying I can't let allow tenants to have 6ft by 4ft sheds."

Plotholder John Sadler, a 74-year-old former electrician, said: "You can't have an allotment without a shed. They're essential, you can't keep carting your equipment up and down, and they're shelter for when it rains.

"It's not as if the sheds are ramshackle; they're are all brand new."

David Perry, 65, a retired plumbing contracts manager, said: "People will leave if they can't have sheds."

Mr Sadler, the first to move onto the plot, said he rang the council to check he could put up a shed and was told he could.

Cabinet member Councillor Neil Roberts is investigating. He said: "Garden sheds generally don't need planning permission. However, sheds on allotments can require it."

Pub's car park to make way for luxury housing

A "LUXURY estate" will be built on a Rugeley pub car park.

JM Homes Ltd wants to build nine two bedroom homes on top of the large parking area outside The Prince of Wales pub, off Sheep Fair. The Solihull-based developers behind the scheme say the pub's owners are happy to give up the car park spaces as they already have more than they need.

The firm said the decision had been reached after a decline in trade at the pub.

In a statement, developers said: "The proposal is to create a luxury estate comprising nine properties that blend in with their surroundings and maintain, where possible, the existing landscaping and complement the current architectural massing."

The property firm says the car park is currently a magnet for anti-social behaviour and the homes, which will be erected on a near half-acre site, will put an end to these problems.

Bosses state: "The properties located at the rear of the site have been located to provide natural surveillance to the rear of the car park area which is currently unobserved and a magnet for anti-social behaviour."

Document

The homes will have one car parking space per house. The new houses would leave The Prince of Wales with just nine spaces – it currently has 56.

The JM Homes statement continues: "Cannock Chase District Council published parking standards within its Supplementary Planning Document of July 2005.

"These confirm that pubs should offer no more than one parking space per 54sq ft. On this basis the pub should offer no more than 15 spaces."

Tribunal rules singer right to lose prison job

X Factor Faye fails in dismissal claim

A FORMER X Factor contestant has lost her claims for unfair dismissal and sexual discrimination against the prison where she taught inmates.

A tribunal ruled mother-of-three Faye Bray, of Cannock, rightly lost her job after wearing 'mesmerising' clothes to work and posting provocative pictures online.

The 30-year-old had alleged she was unfairly sacked by The Manchester College, which provided services to Brinsford Young Offenders Institution in Featherstone. She had previously faced disciplinary action for performing in an 'inappropriate outfit' when she auditioned for the ITV talent show in 2009.

One of the online pictures showed Mrs Bray, who taught life skills, politics and literacy, wearing a basque and stockings and brandishing a whip. She claimed she had not intended the image to be "sexual".

'No choice'

She told the tribunal there was nothing wrong with aspiring to be like Barbie, Katie Price or Pamela Anderson.

A judge ruled Mrs Bray's employers had 'no choice but to dismiss her'.

Dismissing her claims of unfair dismissal and sexual discrimination, the tribunal ruled the mother-of-three was not sacked because of her saucy X Factor audition, for which she wore a pink corset, mini skirt and black stockings.

Mrs Bray, who signed her e-mails Barbie Shagwell, had faced disciplinary action for performing in the 'inappropriate outfit'.

She was told her employers had "done everything they could to avoid an injustice" following the five-day hearing in Birmingham.

Judge Ashworth, ruling against her claims, told the tribunal: "We find there was no sex discrimination.

"If it had been a man in the claimant's position the same thing would have happened.

"In a meeting to try and sort the issues out the claimant was flippant and didn't appear to understand the consequences of her actions.

"She was not dismissed because of her appearance on the X Factor.

"We are of the opinion that had the pictures not been discovered on her website she would still be teaching at the prison.

"Her exclusion was just and the college had no choice but to dismiss her when she didn't apply for any alternative jobs on offer within the company."

Faye's X Factor audition

Faye Bray outside the employment tribunal

Political interest revealed

FAYE Bray returned to the stage after "a horrible week". She shared the bill with comedian Roy Walker and Britain's Got Talent contestant Jean Martyn in a Help For Heroes concert at Cannock's Prince of Wales Centre.

She said she had intended to donate all her compensation to the charity, had she won her employment tribunal case.

"I'm independently wealthy and didn't take the prison to court for money," said Faye, wife of a millionaire businessman.

The tribunal heard she was a good teacher whose students boasted a 100 per cent success rate in all her subjects. There were also tales of a sexy website featuring a whip-wielding Faye in a basque and stockings, a saucy e-mail address and claims she wore see-through trousers to work.

Conflict

Speaking after Sunday's show, which also included a song from her 14-year-old daughter Georgia, she defended her actions.

"There seems to be some kind of conflict which says attractive women can't work in a prison," she said.

"I loved my job, and my students had respect for me.

"The email address was one I created 12 years ago. The whip was just a prop. It only featured in one photo out of 200 on my website."

Faye has taken over a beauty salon in Great Wyrley and is planning another in Cheslyn Hay. But she revealed her career may take a new turn – into politics.

"I'm serious about politics, I just don't have the time at the moment."

Stationery is offered to schools by charity

A WINDFALL of stationery worth thousands of pounds is being passed on free to schoolchildren across the county. The items have all been donated by a leading manufacturer.

National charity Newlife Foundation, which is based in Cannock, is handing out the packs to local schools after being given a large selection of office, school and home desktop items.

The goods include pens, pencils, ringbinders, clipboards, hole punchers, highlighters and high visibility jackets. Any gifts remaining will be sold off by the foundation.

The charity raises money by recycling donated surplus stock at its Hemlock Way premises and selling it at discounted prices. Goods come from from more than 400 retailers.

Last yearthe Newlife Foundation awarded £1.2m worth of grants for vital equipment, such as wheelchairs, hoists, safe play spaces, beds, and sensory and communication aids, to be bought for more than 15,500 disabled and terminally ill children.

Director Colin Brown said they wanted to share their good fortune.

"We have decided to help our local schools by offering them a free pack.

Fabrics

There will also be massive discounts on further purchases of this stock. We hope this will help relieve school budgets in these trying times," he said.

The charity already runs a Newlife Art project, which supplies materials such as beads and fabrics to schools and colleges at reduced rates.

Mr Brown said it gave young people the chance to experiment with materials they would not normally have access to due to the cost. He said local voluntary groups could also take advantage of the discounted offer.

Any local schools interested in receiving a free pack or wishing further information, is asked to contact Jenny on 01543 468888 during office hours.

Santa tour of villages set to start

CHRISTMAS is coming early for Penkridge residents as Santa's sleigh begins its annual tour of the village next Friday (November 25).

The Penkridge Christmas Fair, which is being held at Market Street, will see the arrival of Father Christmas – and his distinctive festive sleigh – for the first time this year.

This visit is a prelude to Santa's tour of Penkridge and surrounding villages which begins on Tuesday December 6 and will last for 12 nights. The tour will include stops in Dunston, Bednall, Bradley, Wheaton Aston, Acton Trussell as well as a weekend visit to Asda in Cannock.

As in previous years, Santa will be assisted by helpers from the Penkridge & District Round Table on his tour of the village.

The group, founded more than 35 years ago, aims to bring festive cheer to the streets and collect money for local good causes.

Full information on Santa's tour are available at: www.penkridge.round-table.co.uk

For Round Table membership details, call Mark Cooper on 01785 715802.

Engineering firm is on lookout for staff

A RUGELEY firm still has 30 vacancies to be filled despite winning a major £23m contract earlier this year.

Ultra Electronics PMES Ltd is among firms looking to take on staff, but finding it difficult to attract the people with the skills it needs.

The hi-tech business has taken on 70 new staff this year but currently has 30 vacancies to fill, mainly for engineers.

The company's head of human resources Valerie McBride said they had started a graduate and apprentice programme to "grow their own" engineers.

Ultra, of Towers Business Park in Wheelhouse Road won a contract in June from Rolls Royce to make remote controls for Royal Navy nuclear submarines.

Statement

The company provides high technology power conversion and control systems. It moved into its 50,000sq ft, £5.5 million premises on the business park three years ago.

This week, the firm issued its interim management statement for the period July 2 2011, to November 13 2011, showing it is still on track with profits.

In August, Ultra announced it had seen profits rise by nine per cent in the first half of this year. Bosses said the balance sheet remained strong.

Among its successes, the firm has been selected by Lockheed Martin to supply equipment for the upgrade of Warrior armoured vehicles.

Mrs McBride said there was a national shortage of the skills they needed. Details of the vacancies are featured on Ultra's website.

Drinkers not a-verse to finishing off rhyme

A COUNTRY pub and restaurant near Rugeley is inviting local poets to put pen to paper to complete a half-finished verse.

The Wolseley Arms at Wolseley Bridge, is part of the Vintage Inns chain, which is running the competition to add lines to a poem started by former Poet Laureate Sir Andrew Motion. The competition runs until December 5 and contributors are invited to co-author an eight-line poem inspired by Sir Andrew's work.

Sir Andrew is choosing the best line submitted each week so it can be added to gradually complete the verse.

Each winner will receive a framed copy of the eventual eight-line poem, plus a meal for four with wine at their local Vintage Inn.

The first four lines are:

The muted brilliance of autumn leaves
The wind's deep voice soft-tickling the trees.
The parting notes of swallows' cresting calls,
As dapples sunlight fades and evening falls.

Entries can be made at the Vintage Inns Facebook website page at http://www.facebook.com/vintageinns

Promoting the poetry competition is Wolseley Arms barman Luke Tait, aged 22, from Rugeley

New dates as comic Starr does jungle run

FREDDIE Starr's jungle japes mean the madcap comic has had to postpone a date in Cannock.

The zany funnyman had been booked to appear at the Prince of Wales Centre, in Church Street, on December 2. However, the 68-year-old Liverpudlian has since appeared on ITV's I'm A Celebrity . . . Get Me out of Here which means the sell-out show has been rearranged.

Starr will now make two dates at the Prince of Wales, on April 1 and 2 next year.

Theatre manager Richard Kay said: "Obviously we are disappointed Freddie Starr can't fulfil his date in December, but we are looking at is as a positive as we have two dates instead of one for next year."

Slava's Snow Show, Birmingham Hippodrome

SEND in the clowns . . . Slava's Snow Show was the perfect antidote for a gloomy atmosphere of November darkness and economic woe, allowing the audience to escape to dreamland for a precious couple of hours.

The dream belongs to Slava Polunin, a leading Russian clown who has devised – though seldom now performs in – this spectacular, globetrotting show.

On its third visit to the Hippodrome, another member of Slava's collective of brilliant fools, Artem Zhimolokhov, took the central role of Asisiai, the little everyman clad in oversized yellow overalls who shuffles about in fluffy red slippers. Just by raising his eyebrows he won over the audience ,who delighted in his antics, whether chugging around the stage in a steaming top hat, apparently shrinking at will, or, in a most magical scene, bringing a hat and coat on a stand to life.

This funny-sad character has a poignancy, the very first time we see Asisiai he has a noose around his neck, and pulls on the rope only to find another clown in a noose at the other end. These Russian clowns have a dark current of fatalism.

At other times members of the audience were doused in water or buried in confetti 'snow' by the troupe of mischievous mac-wearing clowns, who walked over the seats to bring their anarchy right into the auditorium.

The most memorable moments of the Snow Show are the three big set pieces; a cobweb that envelopes the entire audience, an awesome indoor blizzard and audience members discovering their inner child when the theatre is turned into a giant ball pit.

No wonder Slava's unique show is so well loved . . . except, perhaps, by the cleaners who have to clear away all that 'snow'.

Leon Burakowski

Reginald D Hunter Birmingham Alexandra Theatre

MANY comedians use fleeting television appearances to offer bite size chunks of what to expect on their stand-up tours, hoping to flog a few tickets in the process.

Reginald D Hunter certainly isn't one of them.

As the American freely admits at the start of his performance, the cuddly TV persona is exactly that, with his stage 'act' a much more serious and deep-thinking affair.

Frequent appearances on Have I Got News For You and QI have brought Hunter national acclaim but it's on stage where his true personality comes out and the difference is refreshing.

The show certainly isn't for the faint-hearted, with no subject or swear word off limits.

Reg's take on life, shaped by a combination of being brought up in America's Deep South followed by 15 years touring the UK comedy circuit, is charming and he quickly has the audience captivated.

Childhood stories, scientific theories, British racism and relationship advice are all approached with a unique slant.

The only downside would be that some gags don't quite come around quickly enough, with Reg's mantras occasionally too drawn out, although often when the punchlines came they were worth the wait.

Tim Spiers

Keeler, Grand Theatre

SHE was that naked bird on the chair – that's how Christine Keeler thought virtually everyone would remember her after the 1960s sex scandal which led to the resignation of a Government minister.

But after seeing Keeler at Wolverhampton's Grand Theatre, I think what many of the audience will also remember is the superb performance by Paul Nicholas in the role of Stephen Ward.

Ward was a well-paid osteopath who was also addicted to a Bohemian lifestyle of picking up girls and visiting clubs and drug dens.

He was a society fixer who made it his business to provide powerful men with easy access to young girls.

Ward was 48 and Christine Keeler just 16 when he saw her dancing in a club.

He befriended her and another dancer Mandy Rice-Davies and paid the rent on a flat for them.

His particular favourite for grooming was Christine.

Nicholas showed Ward's manipulative character and as producer/director as well, he managed to get across the total seediness of the world he lived in.

Alice Coulthard as Christine demonstrated the level of naivete needed to convince in the role of a teenager who was so in awe of the rich and powerful she was persuaded to sleep with older men.

One of them was War Minister Jack Profumo and, while sleeping with him, she also had an affair with a Russian military attaché based in London.

This was the time of the Cuban missile crisis when America and Russia were as close to nuclear war as any countries ever have been.

Ward pushed Keeler into sleeping with Profumo and Eugene Ivanov to see if she could find out any Cold War secrets which would be useful to him as a man with a finger in many pies.

The whole affair came crashing down when Ward was charged with living off immoral earnings.

He was abandoned by the high society friends he craved and killed himself.

Keeler lives quietly in anonymity and Rice-Davies, in her own words, has descended into respectability.

Keeler, which includes full frontal nudity, runs until Saturday.

Sue Attwater

Jesus Christ, Superstar by Chadsmoor Choral Society, Prince of Wales Centre, Cannock.

LORD Lloyd-Webber and Tim Rice's rock opera is now world renowned and has itself reached 'superstar' status.

Is it a rock musical, an historical drama, a theatrical spectacle or a spiritual happening? No matter from which viewpoint each individual audience member experienced this production they could not have failed to be moved by Chadsmoor Choral Society's efforts.

The band of four talented musicians led by musical director Ian Room stirred the audience from the outset. A single set was chosen by director, Jonathon Keeling to depict the many locations in which the action is set. In the main this worked well but greater advantage could have been taken of the various available levels.

Costumes were of an original design and were generally suitable and effective.

The cast worked hard throughout with many portraying multiple characters. There were fine performances from a number of principals, including John Latham as Herod and Jo Goulding as Mary Magdalene. Newcomer George Lowe as Peter was particularly noticeable. He has a good singing voice and a natural stage-presence and should be a future asset to the group.

Mike Johnson's performance as Jesus was that of a superstar. His was a remarkable performance and ought to bring him an award.

LAW & ORDER: SPECIAL VICTIMS UNIT

Channel 5, 9.25pm

Robin Williams guest stars in the 200th episode. The story begins as a restaurant manager is following the instructions from a phone caller, forcing him to make certain demands on an employee, who later complains to the police. The manager then claims he was being ordered by a Detective Milgram – who doesn't exist. Instead, the police suspect it's a pseudonym for audio engineer Merritt Rook, despite the fact he has an alibi for his whereabouts at the time. Eventually Stabler and Benson think they have enough evidence to prosecute him, but Rook is found not guilty.

THE X FACTOR

ITV1, 8pm

The 2011 series has been a hit-and-miss run so far, possibly because most of Simon Cowell's energy has gone into the arguably superior X Factor USA. The likes of American singers Rachel Crow and stunning diva Melanie Amaro have already blown much of the UK competition out of the water, but on the plus side, we've still got host Dermot O'Leary, who remains one of this show's great-est assets. Once more, judges will be providing comments on last night's events, before we find out who the public voted off, and there is a performance by chart-topping star Rihanna, who helped LA Reid whittle down his acts as a guest judge on the American version of The X Factor.

The Waltz King of Europe is returning to the UK with his Orchestra to perform in concert next year at The O2 Arena in London.
Acknowledged as one of the world's greatest living musical legends, Dutch-born Andre Rieu was classically trained, and is now an accomplished violinist, an excellent conductor and a truly remarkable showman.
With his orchestra, choir and soloists, he brings a delightful and innovative approach to his concerts, recreating the atmosphere of 19th century Viennese dance halls, where audiences sway with the music, hum along and even dance in the aisles – it all happens!
During the concert you will hear music from across the star's repertoire, from his first album, 'Strauss & Co' to his latest release, 'And the Waltz Goes On'. It will be a truly wonderful experience that you'll remember for years to come.

The top property guide for Cannock, Penkridge, Heath Hayes, Rugeley, Hednesford, Great Wyrley, Lichfield and Burntwood

Gardens make a stunning feature

JR Properties is handling the sale of this large detached home, situated on the outskirts of Stafford.

The property in Kingfisher Drive is on the market for offers based on £359,950.

The agent comments: "The five-bed property has many features on offer, but particular attention should be drawn to the superb landscaped south facing gardens which can be enjoyed from the P-shaped conservatory.

"A viewing is highly recommended to appreciate the size and quality throughout this stunning home".

In brief, an entrance hallway leads to the guest cloakrooms and study – both having wooden flooring.

An impressive lounge has an attractive feature fireplace at the centre of the room, feature double glazed bay window and sliding patio doors to the P-shaped conservatory.

Outside, there is plenty of off-road driveway parking which leads to the property's double garage

Storage

A separate dining room, again having wooden flooring, gives access to hallway, kitchen and conservatory.

The breakfast kitchen has been refitted in a modern light wood finish with matching rolled-edge worktops and mosaic style tiled splashback.

There is a range of wall and base units with drawers and storage, integrated dishwasher and stainless steel double oven with five-ring gas hob and matching extractor hood over. Further facilities are on offer in the utility.

A galleried landing on the first floor leads to all five bedrooms, four of which are doubles.

Both bedroom two and the master have en suite facilities, with the master also having a dressing room.

The main bathroom has a double shower cubicle, WC, wash basin and window to side elevation.

Outside, there is plenty of off-road parking which leads to the double garage and an extensive rear garden has been landscaped.

For further details, or to arrange a viewing of this property, contact the Lichfield office on 01543 256 382.

South facing gardens have been designed and landscaped locally and include lawned areas, well-stocked borders with feature plants and flowers, several seating areas, ideal for al fresco dining. In addition there is an ornamental pond with waterfall, a crescent shaped arbour which stretches across the garden, outdoor lighting and feature trees

Rise of the double rent home owners

THERE is a new trend gaining momentum in the residential lettings market – and it could be taking a foothold in Lichfield over the coming months, says lettings specialist Mike Allgood.

Double renting is springing up all over the country – where home owners struggling to sell are taking up the option of letting out their existing home to provide an on-going income stream, while moving into another - lower cost rental property themselves.

This has created a curious situation in which a home owner becomes both a landlord and a tenant. But for many it is the ideal solution if they are struggling to sell their property.

It means they can make alternative arrangements without playing the 'waiting game' for a sale.

Mike, joint owner of the Belvoir Lettings office on Sandford Street, Lichfield, says: "In this current market, with rents rising and very strong tenant demand, 'double renting' offers a new and ideal solution for many people.

Lifestyle

"It is particularly suitable for owners and their families who are looking to move to another town or city because of a promotion or new job – or for families re-locating to a new area for a particular school. It is very lifestyle driven."

Changes in the family structure are also factors. With double renting, there is no stamp duty or associated legal costs, as there would be in a selling and buying situation.

The process is instantaneous and it also enables home owners to stay 'invested' in the property market.

With property prices at an all time low, they can become renters themselves elsewhere and wait for the market to pick up and sell at a profit.

"But 'double renters' need to ensure they attract the right kind of tenant for their property; carry out detailed referencing and also conform with the wide range of insurance, legislative and health and safety requirements related to private property rental.

"At Belvoir Lichfield, our team of property specialists can provide expert guidance and assistance and ensure that the whole process is handled both professionally and efficiently, leaving property owners safe in the knowledge that their home – and investment – will be expertly managed and maintained."

More people unable to sell their homes are renting them out instead

Rio grand on motorway and around the lanes

By Neil Ward

KIA has been steadily advancing its range with the ambition to have the newest line-up in the UK and the Rio is its latest car.

The Rio is a direct competitor to cars such as the Fiesta and Corsa so it needs to be good to compete in this market – and first impressions are excellent.

The Rio has been restyled and is a new take on the classic wedge style. What this means for me is that there is great ratio of bodywork to glass.

Sometimes cars in this sector look more like greenhouses on wheels than stylish cars so top marks to Kia here. In terms of practicality the Rio has a large boot, which I did manage to fill, so can bear testament to its load carrying capacity.

The instrument cluster is well designed with switches on the steering wheel

On the inside Kia has also done a great job with the height adjustable driver's seat and steering column. The instrument cluster is well designed with the three clock binnacle and numerous switches on the steering wheel which all fell easily to hand.

Other switches are in the centre and are toggle type switches, which I really liked. Also the rear seats can be folded down to create even more space if needed.

For a first test I had a drive from London to Shropshire – so if the Kia was not going to cut it, this would be a good way to find out.

Bearing in mind it is a 1.1litre engine I was surprised that it pulled so well and very quickly the Rio settled into its stride on the motorway. Keeping pace in the outside lane was no problem and with the nice six- speed gearbox it was not tiring to drive. And, t boot, it was achieving nearly 80mpg!

How can I put this? With budget ca sometimes there is a flaw in the overall ex rience so my expectation was that everything else being OK the comfort w be compromised – but I was to be surpr again by the Rio. After nearly three hou the car I did not feel any tiredness at which did surprise me but is testament to t care that Kia has put in to this car.

So in search of a flaw I pushed the Rio around the Shropshire lanes to see if the suspension and steering had been the object of the bean counters' revenge but, again, no. The Rio handles well and soaks up the bumps easily. So how does the Kia compare to the others in what is a very competitive sector of the market? Very well: wi modern styling and a range of e interiors there is pretty muc everyone in the Rio range seven- year Kia warra nitely hit the spot i and value.

Kia's Rio has a new take on the wedge style

Electric glide in blue – the roomy Renault Fluence Z.E. is crammed with technological features

Under the in-Fluence of Renault

By Bob Hickman

WITHIN the automotive world great changes have been made. How could our great-great-grandparents of yesteryear have thought that the humble horse and cart could ever be replaced by a horseless carriage?

Even our parents marvel at today's vehicles in comparison to the vehicles on offer in the 60s and 70s.

And it is without doubt that we will shortly be entering a whole new era of vehicle manufacturer production and motive power underneath the bonnet.

It has long been proclaimed that the fossil fuel reserves will run out at some point and it is really time, not just because of the environmental issue, that strides need to be made to seek alternative methods of propulsion.

Renault is introducing in to this arena and on sale in the UK from the middle of 2012, a pioneering vehicle. The firm has produced what it considers to be the first affordable all-electric conventional three-box saloon.

The vehicle fits into the category of "Oh, is that an electric vehicle?" because it looks a very stylish car with elegant lines, a very comfortable interior and has useful technological features in addition.

The Fluence has been on sale in a large number of countries throughout the world but did not make it to the United Kingdom.

To differentiate it from the internal combustion siblings the Fluence ZE features distinctive and defining hallmarks. It is instantly recognisable, thanks to a number of blue tinted details from the lights and fog surrounds to the logos and the badge.

It also has a completely redesigned set of lights, and a more open grille, so should you be on holiday on foreign shores and see a Fluence you will know instantly if it is a conventional oil burning engine derivative or the new all-singing and dancing electric.

The Fluence has had the rear section lengthened to incorporate the fitment of the batteries and they are contained behind a folding panel at the back of the boot, an area which left me a little bit disappointed. Certainly if you are a golfer you will be struggling to fit your bag and a trolley.

Without doubt the biggest surprise comes when you actually get to drive the vehicle – the silence. When you are on the move there is no engine noise whatsoever and Renault has paid specific attention to the details of soundproofing so there is little – if any – discernible exterior noise. You are just wafting and gliding along in total isolated seclusion.

At standstill there is a little go light in the instrument panel that tells you that the vehicle is in fact ready and it drives and pulls away in total silence.

Underneath the bonnet the electric motor looks to all intents and purposes like an engine. It delivers its torque instantly and this gives amazing acceleration throughout the power range.

You don't have to bother changing gear, you just put it into drive and the vehicle does exactly what you would expect it to do.

Debatable

The one area that will become debatable is the range. The battery life is going to give an approximate range of 115 miles, the cost implications of this are obviously on the low side but you have to take into the equation other aspects that are almost hidden within the figures.

Renault is suggesting that approximately £3 will be the cost of re-charging the vehicle. However, it has taken the step of introducing battery hire.

So if you own the vehicle for three years and average 9,000 miles per year, in addition to the cost of purchasing the vehicle you have to add the hire of the batteries. This, on a three-year, 9,000-mile a year basis, will be £81 per month. It makes the economics somewhat more complicated; the yearly charge of £972 or almost 11p per mile plus the cost of the charge at £33 suggests 13p per mile.

Purchase of the Fluence ZE is an easy decision to make. The decision I have difficulty with concerns hire of the batteries, which remain Renault's property.

The firm suggests that this is a guarantee of a battery at an affordable price; I wish they had gone down the road of actually incorporating them and having the confidence of giving a warranty with the batteries as opposed to an extra charge. I was also a little disappointed to find an extra charge of £414 to buy the umbilical cord cable to allow charging on a UK 3-pin plug.

Priced at £22,850 for The Fluence ZE Primetime is priced at £22,850 but deduct £5,000 for a Government incentive. Therefore the on the road price is £17,850.

Push the button with this powerful Astra

A Sport and VXR button gives drivers the choice of damper, throttle and steering control stages

HOT on the heels of the recently launched GTC, this is the first official picture of the new Astra VXR, which goes on sale next year.

The vehicle is set to become one of the most powerful cars in its class and the fastest production Astra in Vauxhall's history.

Based on the GTC's platform and powered by a 2.0-litre turbocharged direct injection engine, the Astra VXR produces 280hp of power and a mighty 400Nm of torque, enough for it to achieve a top speed of 155mph.

But while the Astra VXR is based on the new GTC, it has benefited from a raft of bespoke chassis modifications, transforming it into a focused, high-performance coupe. Setting it apart from all other current Astras is a specially developed mechanical limited slip differential, which works on the front wheels. In conjunction with the GTC's sophisticated HiPerStrut (High Performance Strut), the LSD provides the Astra VXR with exceptional lateral grip and traction through bends.

Further changes to the chassis include brakes developed by competition supplier, Brembo, and standard fitment of Vauxhall's fully adaptive FlexRide system.

Throttle

In the Astra VXR, FlexRide features not only a Sport button, but a VXR button, offering drivers the choice of two, more focused stages of damper, throttle and steering control.

Much of the chassis sign-off was done at the Northern Loop (Nordschleife) of the Nürburgring, and was overseen by Le Mans 24-hour race winner, "Smokin' Jo" Winkelhock. "We have devised a great package that will convince even the most experienced and enthusiastic drivers – and not just on the Nürburgring!" said Winkelhock.

Visual identifiers for the Astra GTC comprise a set of specially sculpted front and rear bumpers, side skirts, an aerodynamic roof spoiler and two exhaust tail pipes in a trapeze shape. Inside, the VXR's cabin gets bespoke performance seats with embossed logos in the backs, a flat-bottomed VXR steering wheel and upgraded instruments.

The UK is by far the Astra VXR's biggest market in Europe, so sales interest in the car is set to be strong. More details, including pricing and on-sale dates, will be revealed early next year.

It's joy for Seat over used car sales surge

The Ibiza FR has proved highly popular in the used car market

RECORD sales statistics over the past year or so – including several record shares of the new car market – underline that SEAT's cars are connecting with British drivers like never before.

However, it's not just SEAT's new models that are flying off dealers' forecourts. The brand's used car sales are also running at record levels right now.

To the end of October SEAT's used car sales to the brand's 120-plus franchised dealers nationwide were more than 1,300 vehicles up on the same period in 2010.

Naturally, in turn, dealers' used car sales to the public are significantly up versus the same period in 2010, too. In fact, used SEAT sales at the brand's best-performing dealers are as much as 33 per cent up on 2010 as value-conscious buyers seek out the Spanish marque's mix of sporty style, generous equipment and impressive economy.

SEAT UK's used car sales manager, David Ardern, is understandably pleased by the significant rise in sales. He said: "SEAT's network of dealers across the country is hungry for late model, low mileage vehicles as it knows the buyers are out there. Ibiza, Leon and Exeo are all doing exceptionally well in the used market, while our various Ecomotive-branded cars continue to interest buyers who value miles per gallon as highly as they do miles per hour."

Broadly strong residual values across the range help, of course, with used car buyers happy to invest in a SEAT confident in the knowledge that it should hang on to a fair proportion of its value over time.

Difficult

But the spike in used car sales could also be the result of more new SEATs than ever before hitting the UK's roads – working as "olling adverts" for the brand and raising awareness with drivers who want to stand out from the crowd in a stylish, reliable and eye-catching car.

David Ardern added: "Despite the difficult economic climate, demand for used SEATs has never been stronger.

"We are well-placed to fulfil it, of course, which means there's never been a better time to seek out the SEAT you've been promising yourself!"

what our customers say...
"My husband and I were struggling with mortgage. Life was becoming difficult, we didn't want it when it was but we couldn't afford our home any longer. Once all the paperwork was sent out to Mike he was about sending our property back after we had sold it. It couldn't have been more straightforward. There was no pressure. We now have money each month and life is much relaxed. I would recommend you, no doubt. Thank you!" Mrs H, Wolverhampton
"Ever since my husband died I had found it hard to settle in my home. I wanted to move and had considered selling through an Estate Agent, but I knew this would take time. Suddenly I found a beautiful property, the "house of my dreams", and needed to sell fast. Where I wanted/needed everything was explained in plain English, no jargon, and you guided me through the sale of my house and in to my new home. Thank you for being so straightforward." Mrs Jones, Staffs.
"I wanted to say thank you for the help that you gave me. When I was I was in, I was going to lose my home and me & my children would be out on the street. I was terrified, I didn't sell an auction date and I didn't believe you could help, but within days you had a new court date for us and you managed to hold off our lenders for long enough for me & my family to make alternative arrangements and more-everything on our new home. Thank you, I just couldn't have done this alone." Christine, Stoke on Trent

ARE YOU LOOKING FOR A CAREER IN SALES?

The Midland News Association, publishers of the UK's largest evening newspaper, the Express & Star, is looking for field sales representatives and tele-sales advisors to join their advertising sales teams.

You should be competitive, imaginative, influential, persuasive, confident and ideally have sales experience. Meeting people and being able to put them at ease and influence their decisions should be something you enjoy, as the role involves advising local businesses about the range of advertising options available to ensure they achieve the best possible results. Each position will receive a competitive annual salary with the opportunity to earn a generous bonus for on-target achievements. In addition, field sales roles will also be entitled to a company car.

There is a company pension scheme and five weeks annual holiday, together with all the benefits you would associate with working for one of the largest and most trusted local companies. Successful applications will be required to participate in a telephone interview and if successful, a subsequent face to face interview at our head office in Wolverhampton, where we will be able to tell you more about the roles and opportunities that exist.

Write to us in confidence, enclosing a current CV and details of your present salary to:
John Harris, Group Head of Personnel and Training, Midland News Association, Queen Street, Wolverhampton, WV1 1ES.

CHASETOWN RESERVES/LADIES

Archer fires one home on his debut

COALVILLE TOWN RESERVES 1
CHASETOWN RESERVES 3

CHASETOWN Reserves fought back from a goal down behind to take a 2-1 lead through debutant striker Jordan Archer in the 53rd minute. Tom Brown put the game beyond Coalville's reach with an 87th minute strike.

Chasetown found themselves under instant pressure as Coalville, fielding an experienced line-up, came out all guns blazing, determined to knock the league leaders off their perch.

They soon threatened to open the scoring when Jordan Stewart put Tom Langton in the clear, but captain Mark Wiggins was alert to pounce and stop.

Wiggins then acrobatically punched a Dan Chatfield blast over the bar on 11 minutes. The Scholars were not as fortunate from the resulting corner as unmarked Brent Upton jumped highest at the front post to head the Ravens into the lead.

Drew Aiton came sprinting forward to pick up Jonathan Gould's cute pass on the byeline. He breezed past two Coalville defenders, cut into the box, only for defender Matt Dadswell to divert his goal-bound effort for a corner.

The hosts cleared the corner and Archer, promoted from the youth team, blasted the loose ball narrowly wide from the edge of the area.

It was all-square on 29 minutes as a Drew Aiton cross was side-footed into his own net by Dadswell.

Craig Deakin saw his shot cleared off the line and then Chad Degville-Cross went close to putting Chasetown in front.

Chasetown's superiority shone through from the outset of the second period. Courtney Sowe fed Deakin in midfield, his pass put Archer in the clear and his perfectly placed shot squeezed in-between keeper Paul Hollis and the post.

A two goal cushion was required to make it safe for the visitors as and with three minutes of play remaining Stuart Birt found Deakin. He and Brown interchanged with speed and intelligence before Brown coolly slotted beneath Hollis.

PORT VALE LADIES 5 CHASETOWN LADIES 2

Chasetown Ladies suffered a sore defeat away at Port Vale for the second time this season.

After losing to Vale in the cup earlier this season, manager Carly Edwards wanted the Scholars to show a response. However, only the 11 who lined up for the Ladies were available, restricting the options to bring on substitutes to freshen things up.

Chasetown conceded within the first 10 minutes after Vale broke through the defence, and soon followed with two more goals, giving the away side a mountain to climb.

Chasetown's heads were down, they were second to the ball and at half time they were down 4-0 and facing a demoralising defeat.

A determined half-time team talk aimed to redress the balance but Vale increased the lead to 5-0 .

Chasetown found the resolve to up their game and their hard work reaped its reward when a great header from Jade Arber found the net.

Despite head injuries to Stacey Roberts and Carly Edwards, Scholars pulled another goal back through Jade Arber.

Cartwright hits a treble as unbeaten run stays intact

Aaron Pryor – Man of the Match for AFC Cannock Town Blues U-10s

WARREN ROVERS U-13 1
CHASETOWN SCHOLARS 2

BELOW-par Chasetown transferred their unbroken winning league run to the Shield, but found it difficult against third division opposition.

Despite being frustrated, Chasetown did go in at the break 1-0 up courtesy of Jake Allen. Jack Rainbow extended the lead before Rovers pulled a deserved goal back.

LICHFIELD CITY GLADIATORS 1
CANNOCK TOWN U12 JUNIORS 4

Cannock kept their unbeaten record intact and stayed top of the league with a great performance against a strong Lichfield side.

First half, goals came from Jack Cartwright (2) and Kyle Caven and Cartwright went on to complete his hat-trick after the interval.

Man of the Match was Luke Clews, Endeavour winner was Danny Goodyear.

HEDNESFORD HARRIERS U-12 3
PARK HILL BOYS 1

Goals from Supporters' Man of the Match Reece Lapin (2) and Luke Sims leaves Harriers top the table by five points with a game in hand.

SUTTON COLDFIELD TOWN 0
CRESSWELL WANDERERS U-13 1

Cresswell needed to bounce back and stake their claim for the Shield. Sutton Town proved tough to break down but Jack Dunn smashed home the winner. Jack Squire had rattled the bar with Oliver Stevens Man of the Match.

CANNOCK TOWN BLUES U-10 0
LICHFIELD LEOPARDS 3

Goals from Leopards players Patrick Wyatt, Jack Brennan and Josh Sawyer gave them their second league victory of the season.

Cannock found it difficult to break down the strong defence and even when awarded a penalty for handball the Leopards keeper made a fine save to deny the home side. Cannock Town Blues Man of the Match was Aaron Pryor.

Cannock Town U-10 Juniors are looking for players. They play in Division 2 of the Lichfield League and train on a Wednesday night at Cardinal Griffin School from 7.30 to 8.30pm. Contact Paul or Jacqui on 07725 550504 if interested.

JUNIOR FOOTBALL

BURNTWOOD DRAGONS U-9 5 COLRON BOYS 2

Jack Taylor put Dragons in front direct from a free kick, but the visitors levelled before the break. Alex Tisdell raced clear to put Dragons back in front. However the visitors were back level within minutes.

Dragons rallied and added further goals through Tisdell, Alfie-Allan Smith and Jack Castro.

BURNTWOOD DRAGONS REDS U-12 8
SPORTSCO HARRIERS 0

CHASETOWN SCHOLARS U-12 2
ERDINGTON STAR 2

Chasetown were unable to beat a battling Erdington Star. with two goals from Supporters' Player of the Match Kieron Hardwick were not enough to seal the win. The Manager's Player was Dave Clarke.

Chasetown Scholars are looking for players to add to their squad. Contact Steve Molineux on 07818 573915.

SPORTSCO SAINTS 4
HAWKINS SPORTS JUNIORS U-12 5

Hawkins stretched their unbeaten run to six with this hard-fought win.

An early William Morris gave Hawkins the lead, and after the home side had equalised Scott Harris restored the lead from the spot.

Morris extended Hawkins' lead straight after the break before being pegged back to 3-3. An own goal and a quality finish by Sean Jackson resumed Hawkins lead. A late reply from Sportsco led to a tense finale.

CHASE ATHLETIC U-13 JUNIORS 3 FOUR OAKS

Dominik Kovacs scored his first two Chase goals as his side brushed aside Four Oaks in the Shield. Josh Davies completed the scoring with Daniel Brown Man of the Match.

LEA HALL U-14 3 RUGELEY RANGERS 4

Rangers managed to pick up all three points with their first defeat of their local rivals.

An outstanding performance from Rangers keeper Shane Wood kept Lea Hall at bay, while Man of the Match Chris Alderson claimed all four goals.

Rugeley Rangers under-12s are seeking new players to bolster their challenge at the top of the Lichfield & District Recreational League division 3.

Dylan Boora hit the winning penalty after efforts from Josh Wilding, Euan Scott, Alfie Taylor and Shipp, while Lewis Todd was the hero of the keepers with a fine save.

Rugeley roar is silenced as visitors snatch the win

RUGBY UNION MIDLANDS 4 WEST (NORTH) – RUGELEY 1STS 9 TENBURY 22

VALIANT Rugeley fought in vain to hold off Worcestershire-based Tenbury in a thoroughly great game of rugby at Hagley fields.

Both teams were very well matched in ability and discipline.

Rugeley at times fell foul to the technique and speed of the visitors, allowing them to score a try right under the posts, and with the conversion, were able to forge an early seven-point lead.

Good defending allowed Rugeley to hold off a possible onslaught, but the home team were dealt a bitter blow when prop forward Tom Wilson was carried off after just 11 minutes with an ankle injury. Replacement Kirk Jones found it easy to step into Wilson's boots, though.

Some 39 minutes into the game, Rugeley were able to gain an advantage and score a penalty. They continued to dominate from that point and with only seconds to play in the first period the visitors looked as if the constant battering was taking its toll as they began to make fundamental mistakes in their own 10 metre line, enabling Rugeley to score a penalty once again under the posts for a 6-7 half-time deficit.

RUGELEY RUGBY CLUB

In the second period the visitors came out fighting and Rugeley allowed them to once again take control, bringing the score to 6-12 in their favour.

Once again Rugeley were able to dominate play and with Tenbury's tiring forwards and lack of discipline, the hosts were able to score a third penalty under the opposition's posts.

With the score at 9-12 Rugeley looked as if they were once again about to snatch a well-deserved win against the visiting team.

As time ticked down visitors stepped up play and with 12 minutes to go they converted a penalty to take the score to 15-9.

Rugeley roared back like a lion and the visitors buckled under the pressure, conceding a penalty deep into the visitor's field of play.

But they were unable to convert the kick, and as time ebbed away the Tenbury pack made one last roar for the try line, adding the conversion to run out 22-9 winners.

Club president Carl Johnson said: "The boys all played like Trojans and it is such a disappointment not to have won."

On Saturday (November 19), Rugeley are away at Barton under Needwood and all players are requested where possible to wear club shirt and ties.

Rugeley battle for possession in their clash against Tenbury: Words and pictures by JOHN PARKES

Cannock stung by leaders Hornets

TELFORD 56 CANNOCK 5

CANNOCK travelled to table-toppers Telford without skipper Jon Freeman but still with high hopes after their emphatic victory over unbeaten Tupton the previous week.

Cannock arrived early and set about the task ahead with a strong warm up led by coach Paul Buckley.

From the off confidence was evident. With dominant scrums and lineouts from the forwards, classy territory kicking from fly half Pedley and penetrating lines from the backs it looked like it was to be another 'giant killing' afternoon from the Lions.

The first 30 minutes was to be all Cannock. Only strong defence from Telford denied a cricket score to the boys in blue and frustration kicked in from the home side. One too many infringements at the breakdown saw the referee brandish a yellow to a Hornets player.

Cannock sensed the concern through the Telford team and pushed the boundaries even more. Good running lines from Macdougall and Brookes were only altered by last ditch tackles. From one lineout Cannock's pack charged up the pitch with a rolling maul which was to be brought down illegally. Or so they thought.

CANNOCK RUGBY CLUB

Instead, Telford were awarded the penalty for Cannock 'holding on'.

Telford's sin bin was restored and the number 10 gratefully booted the ball into Cannock's 22, the first time it had been visited all half.

Cannock still pressured and worked their way back up the field. Good foward running from skipper for the day Shirley sent scrum half Jukes down the wing on-on-one with a forward. Only a slip on the surface stopped Jukes from being away, but this was to be Cannock's last attacking threat for quite some time.

Telford had been growing into the game slowly but surely. From an over-thrown lineout Telford crashed over the line for a try from their first attack and it was 7-0.

Not to be downbeat Cannock rallied for the restart. One phase of play later though and through some uncharacteristic missed tackles Cannock were 14-0 down as Telford's old boy winger raced over for their second try from as many attacks.

Telford started the second half with a purpose. They sensed Cannock were shocked and heads had dropped and it became apparent why they are top of the league and unbeaten.

They were to add another six tries to the two they scored in the first half, all of which were converted. Man of the Match B.Stanaway did get a consolation at the end.

On reflection of the game, Telford, sensed blood and went for the kill. On the other hand this was to be a game lost by Cannock rather than won by the table-toppers. Heads dropped and couldn't be lifted.

But this is a new and young talented Cannock squad and they are expected to bounce back.

LICHFIELD HOCKEY

LICHFIELD MENS 1ST XI 2 FAREHAM 4

LICHFIELD looked to return to winning ways, but in an end-an-end game Fareham came out on top.

After a frantic start Lichfield broke the deadlock with a confident finish from summer signing Adam Foster.

Lichfield were overrun at times by lively Fareham and the away side weren't behind long as Craig Peel slotted home the equaliser.

Fareham went ahead from a debatable short corner and Lichfield found themselves chasing the game. Lichfield were unlucky to go in at half time 2-1 down, but five minutes after the restart Fareham extended their lead as Peel scored his second.

Fareham's keeper could do nothing about Webb's powerful drag flick that nestled in the top corner to reduce the deficit but with Lichfield pushing forward any hope of a dramatic was effectively ended in the 68th minute.

The Men's 8th team were back to winning ways with a 7-0 triumph over Kingswinford. Scorers were Oliver Mason (3), Jamie Wilkinson (2) and singles from Dave Willenbruch and Stephen Little. The Men's 9th team lost 2-0 to Finchfield, while Kippy Bowen was the scorer as the 10ths claimed a 1-1 draw against Ashby.

LICHFIELD LADIES 1ST XI 4 BOURNVILLE 1

Lichfield took the honours in a clash of the promoted teams.

The buzzwords were composure, tempo and confidence, and Lichfield started the game oozing all three.

Lichfield got their just deserts with Jess Taylor Tibbott finishing off a pass from Ellie Keating, who notched the second.

Lichfield let the tempo drop and allowed Bournville to get into the game, but two more second half goals killed the game – both from captain Lydia Riley.

LICHFIELD LADIES 2NDS 1 UTTOXETER 1

The second XI had all the play in the first half, but fell a goal behind against the run of play 10 minutes into the second half.

They fought back and were rewarded when Becky Wright deflected a Nicky Menmuir short corner.

The Ladies 4ths drew 0-0 with Keele University, but the 6ths beat Bloxwich 8-0, Glenda Francis (5), Jan Willenbruch (2) and Christine Herbert on target.

Double header kicks off quest

CANNOCK U16S XI 1 BEESTON 1
CANNOCK U16S XI 9 WEST BRIDGFORD 0

Cannock began their quest to become national champions with a double header against last year's winners, Beeston and West Bridgford, on Sunday afternoon.

The tough group also includes Belper and local rivals Lichfield.

The opening game came against long standing rivals Beeston, who started the better of the two sides.

Cannock lost their heads in the final part of the first period which resulted in Louie Morris receiving firstly a green card which was soon followed with a yellow. As Morris came off Beeston opened the scoring getting the ball beyond keeper Ollie Balcombe, who played superbly throughout the day.

A goal down at half-time, Cannock then turned in a great second half performance. Although both captain Jeevan Dhanda and Tom Bunn received yellow cards, when they were back to full strength, Callum Stacey scored a penalty flick.

Cannock began the second game against West Bridgford slowly but soon found their way as they eased past their hard-working opponents 9-0 thanks to doubles from Reece Jecketts and Ed Carr as well as goals from Harry Coombs, Jeevan Dhanda, Gurpal Mann, Dan Hoare and Callum Swinnerton-Ions.

Round sees red as league leaders are intimidated by Leek

LOUGHBOROUGH STUDENTS 4 CANNOCK 1ST XI 1

BUOYED by the win over Reading, Cannock travelled to a side that have often proved their bogey – and so was the case again.

A bouncy pitch made life difficult for the visitors and Loughborough, having the better of a poor first half, took the lead after 10 minutes.

The second half saw the quality improve but it was the home side who started better and two goals in three minutes gave Cannock a mountain to climb. Arjan Drayton-Chana gave Cannock them some hope but as they attacked, Loughborough countered to make it 4-1 before the whistle.

Defeat leaves Cannock in second place in the National League Premier Division, three points behind leaders East Grinstead. This weekend, Cannock host Surbiton at Chase Park at 2.30pm.

CANNOCK 4THS 0 LEEK 4THS 5

Despite sitting top of the Ener-G Midland Hockey League Central Premier Division, a young Cannock side were intimidated by the aggression, gamesmanship and quality interplay of an experienced Leek side that were previously languishing in the bottom three.

Cannock's youthful enthusiasm resulted in a yellow card followed, in the last 30 seconds of the game, by a red card issued to Junior Lewis Round, with a lengthy ban now expected.

CANNOCK 5THS 2 WOLVERHAMPTON 4THS 0

Cannock 5ths maintained their 100 per cent record despite turning in a below-par performance.

In what was expected to be a tough match Cannock's set piece proficiency was maintained when Mark Cotterill gave them the lead from a penalty corner.

The second half saw Cannock start badly and they continued to play poorly at times.

CANNOCK HOCKEY

However Cannock finally eased any worries with a late goal from Darren Pugh.

FINCHFIELD 4THS 4 CANNOCK 6THS 3

Another game of two halves for Cannock who struggled before the break to stop the Finchfield attack penetrating the D.

The hosts scored three goals in the first half and but for some brilliant defending it could have been more. A change of tactics at half-time saw a change of fortune for Cannock who levelled with two great goals from Cameron Beswick and one for the debutant Richard Gray.

In the dying minutes there were corners at both ends, but Finchfield finished their chance well and Cannock didn't.

CANNOCK 7THS 12 WHITCHURCH 2NDS 1

Cannock 7th XI smashed Whitchurch 2nd team 12-1 with five goals for Keith Cooke, hat-tricks for Ozzy Harris and debutant Michael Tucker, and a Gary Jones strike.

CANNOCK BADGERS 'B' 0 YARDLEY BADGERS 1

Cannock Badgers B XI valiantly went down to a single goal against a Yardley side that boasted three adults and a number of players who were two to three years older than the majority of the Cannock players.

CANNOCK LADIES 3RDS 3 UTTOXETER 2NDS 4

Cannock were 3-1 ahead before succumbing to another defeat in what is proving a hard season and steep learning curve. Despite goals from Stacy Mound, Shannon Deakin and Sammie Holland Cannock could not hold on for what would have been a confidence-boosting win.

LEEK LADIES 3RDS 4 CANNOCK LADIES 5THS 0

At Holden Lane High School, the scoreline did not reflect the effort that Cannock put into this game. Cannock battled well, absorbed a lot of pressure and were unlucky not to score.

Youngster notches first senior goal

HEDNESFORD TOWN 3 CHESTER 1 – DOODSON SPORTS CUP THIRD ROUND

SIXTEEN-year-old Amani Allen scored his first competitive goal for the Pitmen to seal a victory for Hednesford over a Chester side who, had they shown the same calmness and quality of finishing of the young player, would have been in front by half time.

Both sides were reduced to 10 men as Wellecomme and George Horan scuffled in the penalty area and saw red for their troubles after 12 minutes. The Pitmen reacted better to the sendings-off and could have scored seconds after the incident as an Elliott Durrell free-kick was flicked onto the angle of post and bar by Chris Shaw.

The home side hit Chester on the counter attack on 19 minutes as Durrell advanced determinedly down the right flank and drilled in a cross for Mark Danks to tap home.

Chester controlled possession after the first goal and wasted numerous opportunities as Luke Holden and Iain Howard failed to hit the target when well placed before deservedly equalising on 41 minutes when Robert Booth headed over Dan Crane from a corner.

A superb run by Jamey Osborne set up Danks to shoot through Adam Judge just after the interval and despite the away side coming close through the impressive Howard it was left to the exuberance of youth to shine through as Allen skipped past Judge and confidently slotted into an empty net to finish the match.

A midfield tussle between Chasetown and Ashton

Unbeaten league run under boss Brindley is maintained

CHASETOWN 1 ASHTON UNITED 0, EVO-STIK NORTHERN PREMIER LEAGUE

DEAN PERROW'S first half goal ensured Chasetown maintained their unbeaten run under new boss Chris Brindley.

The Robins had not been in the best of form in their league fixtures leading up to their clash at the Scholars Ground, but they made a lively start and a cross from Mark Peers in the seventh minute was only just cleared by Jimmy Turner, while Jonathan Bathurst fired over the bar after latching onto a back-header from Jack Farmer five minutes later.

Chasetown's first chance came through a Mark Branch free kick from the edge of the area but the ball was deflected wide.

On 25 minutes, the home side took the lead when Lee Wright outfoxed a defender on the left and crossed low to Perrow whose shot from a tight angle evaded keeper Terry Smith and found the far corner of the net.

Ashton's response was immediate but stand-in Scholars skipper Gary Birch was able to clear their free kick. Skipper George Melling and Aaron Burns both saw chances go over the bar as the second half began while Danny Smith headed just wide from a Branch cross and Turner headed a free kick from the latter over the bar.

Ryan Price, keen to make up for his red card during the Staffordshire Senior Cup exit at Rocester, made several good saves as Ashton fought back including hacking Burns's shot clear in the 68th minute.

Linden Dovey replaced Perrow and was straight into the action when he shot wide with keeper Smith scrambling back to his line.

The visitors went close in the closing stages with a cross from substitute Matty Kosylo finding the side netting and a stoppage time shot from Chris Amadi hitting the crossbar, but Chasetown held on for victory.

Late, late sickener for Scholars

RUSHALL OLYMPIC 1 CHASETOWN 0 (AFTER EXTRA TIME), DOODSON SPORTS LEAGUE CUP ROUND 3

CHASETOWN have seemingly no luck in cup competitions this season and were knocked out of the Doodson Sports League Cup by a 120th-minute goal from local rivals Rushall Olympic.

On a night when floodlight trouble threatened to stop play, a close-run cup tie saw both sides cancel each other out until the Pics struck right at the death when a penalty shootout seemed inevitable.

The hosts started brightly and a fourth-minute free kick was tipped wide by stand-in Scholars goalkeeper Mark Wiggins, while Chasetown's first chance came in the 14th minute when an inswinging corner from Mark Branch was headed out by home skipper Grant Beckett. The Pics appeared to have taken the lead a minute later when Wiggins spilled the ball at the near post and Alan Wilkes poked the ball over the line, but the effort was disallowed.

Rushall seemed certain to take the lead on 69 minutes but substitute Ahmed Obeng's dribbling run was ended by a fine save from Wiggins at full stretch.

Extra time saw chances few and far between, but the second half saw Karl Edwards miss Chasetown's clearest chance when he somehow fired wide from three yards. The Pics went close with three minutes to go when Craig Bannister headed wide then the ball was twice cleared off the line in a goalmouth scramble.

In the very last minute of extra time the Scholars defence failed to clear a ball in from Tolley on the left and defender James Skedgel headed over the line.

STILL IN REACH OF THE PACESETTERS

BUXTON 1 HEDNESFORD TOWN 3 – EVO-STIK NORTHERN PREMIER DIVISION

A LEFT-footed volley by Darren Campion opened the scoring for Hednesford Town as the Pitmen made it 11 wins from 15 games in the picturesque surroundings of the Derbyshire Dales.

Both sides played attacking football throughout an entertaining game, which was full of goal mouth incidents and saw the pendulum swing from one team to the other.

Hednesford started well and should have taken the lead inside two minutes as a long ball from Dan Crane was superbly headed on by Gary Hay for Nick Wellecomme to advance on goal, but the striker lofted his shot over the bar.

Jamey Osborne skipped past two Buxton defenders, but scuffed his long range attempt straight at Scott Hartley before Buxton, looking to avenge their dramatic 3-2 defeat at Keys Park in August, missed a great chance to open the scoring as Kieran Lugsden headed over from six yards on 11 minutes.

HEDNESFORD TOWN FC

Wellecomme reciprocated the earlier flick-on for Hay to shoot into the side netting, but Hednesford deservedly broke the deadlock on the half hour mark. Hay deflected Osborne's snap shot towards goal which was superbly saved by Hartley and, as the resulting corner was cleared, Campion watched the ball drop and lashed a left-footed volley into the corner of the net.

The Pitmen doubled their advantage five minutes later as a lofted cross from Kyle Haynes found Campion who calmly headed the ball square to Wellecomme clear inside the area and he smashed the ball confidently past Hartley.

As the temperature dropped and night drew in it was Buxton who started the second half the better as Hednesford struggled to dominate like they had in the first. Dan Crane was forced into a superb acrobatic save to deny Mark Reed on 58 minutes, but three minutes later was powerless to prevent Neil Stevens' powerful header across goal which halved the deficit.

The alarm bells momentarily rang for the travelling supporters, but the status quo was restored 60 seconds later as Chris Clements picked up a loose ball and side-footed home.

To their credit, a determined Buxton side continued to make a game of the final 20 minutes and Michael Towey's shot from the corner of the area had Crane beaten and hit the upright.

Lugsden picked up on Reed's header down with eight minutes to go, but shot over the bar and, as Stevens saw red late on for dissent, Hednesford shut the game and out and secured an important three points in their continued quest to keep pace with the top three.

With three games in hand, the Pitmen could conceivably be top of the division if their current league form continues, but they face their biggest game of the season on Saturday (November 19) at home to third-placed Chorley.

Congratulations all-round as Darren Campion nets the Pitmen's opening goal against Buxton on Saturday

Pitmen fail to break down Matlock wall

MATLOCK TOWN 2 HEDNESFORD TOWN 1 – FA TROPHY SECOND QUALIFYING ROUND REPLAY

HEDNESFORD Town bowed out of this season's FA Trophy following a frustrating defeat in a replay which was underpinned by a superbly determined defensive performance by Matlock Town.

In the first game at Keys Park, Similar tactics had restricted the Pitmen to their first blank since Rob Smith's first game in charge in September 2010 and, to give Matlock credit, they once again defended like the proverbial lions.

Hednesford took the lead on 18 minutes when Elliott Durrell set up Marvin Robinson with a perfectly judged through ball, but a defensive lapse on the right wing let in Matlock captain James Lukic to equalise two minutes later.

Jamey Osborne's deflected shot was saved well by Jon Kennedy before Robinson had a goal disallowed for offside as the Pitmen showed attacking intent. However the away side always looked like struggling once Robinson limped off with a suspected muscle strain and Ian Holmes headed in from two yards to give Matlock the lead on the stroke of half time.

The home side's one-goal advantage was always going to be difficult to break down for Hednesford and, in a similar vein to the first match, the ball just wouldn't fall their way.

Nick Wellecomme and Durrell both hit rasping drives against the woodwork in the second half but, without the aerial threat of Robinson, the Pitmen faced an impenetrable wall of blue as Matlock's 4-5-1 formation secured their path into the next round.

Cheyenne Dunkley in action for Hednesford

Visitors quick out of blocks to go third

HEATH HAYES 1 GRESLEY ROVERS 4

HEATH Hayes made a dreadful start against the Midland Alliance team of the moment, Gresley Rovers, whose win takes them to third spot in the table.

The visitors came out of the blocks with all guns blazing and their sharp, crisp, free-flowing play soon had the home team in trouble.

A fifth minute corner was cleared by the Hayes defence as far as Michael Lyons who played a superb ball back into the box and Rovers centre half Mica Nottingham, using his height advantage to the full, planted a firm header into the roof of the net.

On 12 minutes Rovers doubled their lead from another set piece and again it was Nottingham who did the damage.

HEATH HAYES FC

Hayes fought back and Andre Gonzales was bundled over in the box by Jamie Barrett, but their strong penalty claims were turned aside. Hayes immediately conceded a killer third goal when a long hoofed clearance found Dean Oliver who ran through to finish clinically.

Dave Waple reduced the arrears as Hayes' Ben Haseley had two good chances and rattled the post, while Craig Hancox had an effort cleared off the line. Then came the sucker punch as Rovers broke and Lyons scored.

Hayes fought to the death and sub Chris Geldart was unlucky when his effort was cleared off the line with the crowd claiming a goal.

HEATH HAYES 3 NEWPORT TOWN 2

TUESDAY night's enthralling JW Hunt Cup fixture was abandoned after 50 minutes due to a power supply failure in the area.

Heath Hayes held a 3 - 2 advantage with two goals from Ian McMath and one from Dave Waple, while Terry Jones got two for Newport.

This Saturday's away fixture at Causeway United, who ground share with Stourbridge, has been postponed as the ground is unavailable due to preparation work required for Stourbridge's televised FA Cup replay with Plymouth Argyle, which takes place next Wednesday (November 23).
